Introduction

With the Name of Allah, the Kind, the Merciful "O' Master of the Age, grant us succor!"

Allāh has called all of His creation to obedience to Imām Mahdi (may Allāh hasten his return), since obedience to him is obedience to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), and obedience to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) is obedience to Allāh, and Allāh has created the entire universe to obey and worship Him.

"And I have not created the Jinn and mankind except to worship Me. 1401

In order to "obey the Mahdi (peace be upon them)" one must carry his guardianship and love in the heart, and to attain his love, one must recognize him

Without recognizing the Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return), his love cannot take hold in the heart. And without loving him, obeying and following him do not come about. And without following him, devoutness is not possible. And without devoutness, perplexity and misguidedness and wandering in the darkness will result, it is as we have been taught in the form of supplications.

اللهم عرقني حجتك فإنك إن لم تعرفني حجتك ضللت عن ديني

O' Aliāh, make me recognize Your authority, for if You don't make me recognize him. I shall go astray in my religion. Allia.

And they have said.

مَنْ أَنْكُرَ الْمَهْدِي فَقَدَ كَفُرَ

"One who denies the Mahdi (peace be upon him) has become a disheliever."

And also

'One who dies without recognizing the Imam of his time dies the death of the Age of Ignorance and

It is on this basis that the religion of Islam does not take form except within the Limis of "Shiaism"—which is the true conformity to religion

And obedience to the religious commands has no meaning except on the basis of "Imamah" —which is the Divine leadership.

And be left in "Imamah" and leadership in the era after the Prophet (peace he upon him and his family) does not take shape except with accepting the principle of the "Mahdi" which is the universal assemination of the guidance.

"Shimsm" is nothing other than the reality of the pure Muhammadan Islām.

"Imamah" is nothing other than the continuity of the mission of the Nobic Prophet of Islam (peace be upon him and his family)

And "Mahdism" is nothing other than the life and vitality of "Imāmah" in the era of the concealment and the worldwide rule 7of Divine unity and justice in the era of the reappearance

It is this very way of thinking that has compelled the enemies of Islam to make all kinds of plots and conspiracies to obliterate Shia.sm, Imamah, and belief in the Mahdi

A.ways, the Shr'a have been put under pressure in order for the non-be levers and hypotrates to be able to pursue their activities.

In order to strengthen the Islām of the caliphs and justify the expediency-based rulings of the apparently Muslim rulers, objections have been raised regarding the issue of Imāmah.

And in order to crush the combatants and make reformers despair, the very principal of the Mahdi has been subject to denial.

In spite of all this, it is only the "authenticity of Shlaism," the "majesty of the Imāmah," and the "integrity of Mahdism" that guaranteed the preservation of the true prophetic traditions, the becoming reality of the Qur'anic guidance, and the progress of the revolutionary and ideal teachings of the Divine leaders.

The book in front of you is one of the valuable works of the eminent teacher and well-known researcher. Äyatul äh a.-'Uzmä Şäfi Gupäygäni. It has been written in the form of questions and answers—which is one of the most influent all ways of research and writing—about the three main topics of "Shiaism," "Imāmah," and "Mahdism". It has answered the existing objections according to what is necessary and possible in the limits of this brief book.

PUBLISHER'S FOREWORD

Written by a leading contemporary scholar on the subject of the Awalted Imam (may Aliah hasten his return), this book, Discussions Concerning al-Mahdi, is another monumental work by Ayatullah al-'Uzma Shaikh Luffullah Safi Gulpaygani. The first one, in Arabic entitled Muntakhab al-Athar Fi l'Imam ath-Thani al-Ashar, was an encyclopedia in its own right. Scholars and laymen have referred to Muntakhab for their research or even just to ascertain a better understanding of the Living limam (may Allah hasten his return), a belief integral to the Muslim Ja fari School of Thought.

In this current book, Discussions Concerning al-Mahali, Grand Ayatullah Şāfi Gulpāygāni answers many of the questions and argumenta posed by both non-Shl'as and even non-Muslima. Each chapter provides a wealth of thought provoking information that is backed up by historical references, not limited to just Shl'a sources. Ayatullah Şāfi starts out by explaining the foundations of the Shl'a thought, which started right from the time of the Holy Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him and his family). He clarifies that Imām Ja'far Şādiq (peace be upon him) was not the founder of Shl'a thought, but rather the one who had the opportunity to teach it comprehensively. Then the respected scholar answers queries about the 12th Holy Imām (may our souls be sacrificed for him) and issues pertaining to the occultation and reappearance

The discussion relating to Imamate and Messianism (issues pertaining to the 12th Imam) is of vital importance, especially in the current era, where doubts are prevalent. The Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and his successor Imams (peace be upon all of them) had already forewarned the community that in the last age there will be doubt east in the minds of the people about the Awaited Imam (may Allah hasten his return). Discussions will be commonplace about the role of this Saviour, even his very ex stence. It will be at this time that the faith of the true behavers was be evident from that of those just clauming to be behavers.

This book is one of a number published by the Islamic Humanitarian Service for the benefit of the Ummah. We pray that the Almighty accept our small efforts in safeguarding the teachings of the subitme faith of Islam.

May the Exalted Lord keep our faith firm on the Holy Qur'an and the Purified Descendants of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), and hasten the return of Imam Mahdi (may our souls be sacrificed for him) to establish justice throughout the earth.

Servant of Islam, Shafiq Hudda

Historical Factors Have Not Influenced the Origin of Shlaism

QUESTION:

Have historical factors influenced the development of Shialam, or is this sect a set of beliefs derived from the Qur'an and the clear traditions of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family)?

ANSWER:

CVD

We need to explain several points in order to shed light on the topic and show that:

- historical factors and events had no role in the development of Shiaism and the bellef in the existence of an imam who will save humanity
- (ii) all benefs of the Shi'n are entirely Islamic and are derived from the same sources that the remainder of Muslim beliefs, from the Unity of Allah to the Day of Judgement, are derived from.

A. The Origin of Shiaism In the Prophet's Time

In accordance with firm historical evidence and abundant traditions, the origin and formation of Shiaism was during the time of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). It began in the very first years of the prophetic mission and was completed by conveying Ifadith al-Thaqulain and officially and publicly proclaiming it during the event of Ghadir Khumm

Of course, during his final inness, the Boly Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) wished to put that hadith in written form, and strong historical evidence and narrations indicate that 'Umar's obstruction and the disrespect shown to the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family prevented him from having it written.

The principles of Sh's belief have been referred to in various places in the Holy Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) words of guidance. By way of example, the issue of the leadership of the Mosl in common ty "ummah", brought up many times at so table occasions, can be found among the sayings of the rioly Prophet peace be upon him and his fam. y). The importance of the issue of Imamah (leadership of the 'ummah') has been emphasized in his sayings to an except that in one of his we sknown and in fact mutuwidir (consecutively-narrated) traditions he says

One who dies without recognizing the Imam of his time dies the Jeath of the Days of Ignorance (vefore the advent of Islām)."

Death while gnorant of the Imam has been regarded as equal to dying during the Age of Ignorance or rather they have been considered the same thing. According to consecutively narrated traditions, the conditions of the Imam, which tribe he is from, and the fact that the number of Imams (peace be upon them, is twolve all have been explained by the Holy Prophet peace be upon him and his family)

Similarly, the qualities of the Imam's knowledge, his spiritual characteristics, and that he must be the most knowledgeable and perfect of all human beings have been explained in the Qur'an and traditions, as has the fact that the successorship of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and Imamate of the ammah after him is a Divine post that, just like prophethood itself, is appointed by Arlah

Shi's thought was established in the very first years of the advent of Islam on the basis of the original sources of Islam. However, at that time the opposing school of thought, which some time later came to be known as Sunni mought, and not exist and the Muslims were not divided into two branches. This is because those who, after the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) death, propagated the opposing view — which caused a division in the Muslim ranks—were anable to openly position themselves against the pure Islam, which after came to be known as Shi's Islam.

This division officially became apparent after the Holy Prophet (peace he upon him and his family) when a group gathered in Sugifah and chose a successor for the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family).

We must add that according to the guidance provided in the Holy Qur'an, in Islam, a reliable source and authority for explaining, organizing, and legislating beliefs has been foreseen and in numerous verses has been clearly stated, such as in Sūrah Nisā.

وَلُوا رَدُّوهُ إِلَى الرَّسُولِ وَإِلَى أُولِي الأَمْرِ مِنْهُمْ لَعَنْمَهُ الَّذِينِ يَسْتَشْطُونَهُ مِنْهُمْ.

Although were they to refer that to the Messenger (peace be upon lam and his family) and those in authority among them those among them who understand the roots of the issues would know it...

From this verse, it is understood that leadership is execusive to the maly Prophe (peace be upon tim and his family, and the utu Tame, who are the orfal ible Imams.

According to unitawatti tractions, the Holy Prophet peace be upon him and his family has clearly introduced this virtuous authority which is none other than the progeny and limains from the Anca -Batt of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). He has soid, "they are with the Qur'an and the Qur'an is with them, and they and the Qur'an shall never separate from each other."

In fact, in one hadith, he has added.

Aiming us the Ahi al Buit, in every generation there are found people firm in real on who protect the realition from the tampering of extremists and the maschief of the astroy.

B. The Origin of the Issue of Khūōfah

From the first days of the prophetic mission (b) that) the issue of leadership of the Islamic Nation after the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) was more or less in people's minds. The story of the man who made his acceptance of Islam conditional upon becoming the leader after the Holy Prophet peace be upon him and his family), which the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) did not accept, is well known

The Shi's viewpoint about successorship of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) is a point that was announced by divine command before the people during the time of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family, by the Prophet himse, if At that time, none opposed it, rather, all the people even those who later were involved in the events at Saqifah celebrated it, and while pledging a legiance congratulated the limam (peace be upon him). But from that very instant they began covertly planning and plotting and reached a point where they wished to assassinate the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family.)

After the Hay Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), the issue became a crisis and the opponents, with unusual severity and hard-heartedness, acted in the name of expeciency and by threats and plotting created such an atmosphere that in the end they opposed the arrangements the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) had announced, to the extent that they insulted and transgressed the personality of raiman az-Zahra (peace be upon him and his family) and a stanced the course of Muslim history from the path the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) had appended

With the intritless cruelty they showed, they even trampled the digitary of the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) only offspring. Of course, because of the policy 'A i (peace be upon him) pursued, two schools. She's and Sunni did not come into open and violent confrontation. The issue only remained in the minds of those who thought about the legitimacy of the government;

others, either and fterent to the matter or associated with the ruling party, did not discuss it. They may very well have considered it settled. However, people like 'Umar ibn al Khattāb were aware that in the face of the arrangements announced by the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) the leg to macy of their actions would a ways be under question. Thus, they prevented the return of the people to that authentic islamic thinking by using political devices, and this is the reason that for about a century and a half they forbade traditions from the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). And since 'I mar knew that if he did not find a way to sideline 'Ali (peace be upon him) after him 'Ali (peace be upon him) would defin ter) assume readership, he plotted a new strategy.

He knew that if the testament—about which it is not known whether it is authentic or whether 'Ultiman added it to the document—was not attributed to Abu Bakr, Shi's thinking would again rise after 'I mar's death and their plotting would be fruitless.

He thus devised a s.x-member council and specified its mandate in such a way as to eliminate Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon him,

In spite of this, the program specified by the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) was revived in memories and finally, in the end of 'Uthman's period, his (ppress on aroused general anger and disgust towards him and surred the Muslims to rise against him in this way the issue of successorship of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) was again raised and many companions returned to the Prophet's original dictate and declared 'Al. (peace be upon him) the rightful successor of the Prophet (peace be upon him) and regarded that under him (peace be upon him) the highest form of worship

Thus, the Shi's belief about the succession to the Prophet (peace he upon him and his family) was never forgotten and people's hearts were never without attachment to the Ahl al Bait and awareness that they had been oppressed and their right usurped. People's statements and the odes of poets such as all ranged abow that the Shi's point of view existed and even an individual like Musa ibn Nasir—the ruler of Africa whose slave, Tāriq, conquered Spain—in spite of being one of the officials of Banu Umayya's government, was a proponent of Shi's thought. For this very reason in spite of all of his services, in the end his property was confiscated and he was removed from office.

In fact, events came to such a pass that this point of view even penetrated the family of Mu'awiya and Yazid, and Yazid's son officially condemned in a grandfather and father and acknowledged the right of 'Ail and the Ahl a.-Bait (peace be upon them). The situation was the same in the time of Banu 'Abbás as we...

from the government's point of view the rightfulness and genuineness of Shi'a thought should not have been put forth and followers of this school should not have had official responsibilities. But the situation was such that the oppressive and usurping rulers of Bunu. 'Abbas such as Manşur, Harun, and Ma'mun, were aware of the truth of this Shi'a thought, even though in practice they crushed it

As a result of the spread of Sh.'a thought Mantasir and some other rulers from Banü 'Abbās became favorably disposed to this view in the issue of succession to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). It has been said that Nāsir, in whose time the cellar of occultation in Sāmarra was inspected, declared himself Shī'a, and it has been narrated that he regarded himself the deputy of the twe.fth Imām (peace be upon him)

From the sum of the above facts it becomes clear that the true Islām, which is the same Shi's thought and Islam that existed in the time of the Prophet (peace he upon him and his family), has been there over the last fourteen continues and history played no role in its existence. Rather, the existence of this point of view played a part in the coming about of major movements, risings, and events. Contrary to what some simple and misinformed people think, it must be said that Shi'a governments in Egypt. Africa, and the Dayalima in Iran and Iran, and finally the rise of the Safawiyya were all events brought about by Shi'a thought, they played no role in bringing it about

C. Sunnism and its Sectarian Meaning (in opposition to Shiaism) After the Prophet's Time

The analysis the Shia sin, I ke Sannism, had from the beginning a political form and gradually developed a religious basis is incorrect. Opposition to the successor announced by the Prophet speace be upon him and his tamily, had a political aspect and that same political behavior caused division and conflict and brought into existence a new opinion in apposition to belief in Imamah. It resulted in the followers of pure Islam, in the form of a taction and with the name Shi's, developing a political orientation.

But the policy the Shi'a as a political group pursued after this affair was based on the true teachings of Islam. Before it acquired a political tint, it was a principle pertaining to belief and religion, and it was a creed that included politics.

Thus, polit cians what dioppose this creed and strove to introduce a new sectiant school of thought in opposition to it. In this way, at great expense and by bribing, threatening, and terronizing, they in later periods gave a religious form to the policies that made the khitājah (succession, deviate from its specified course

Of course, this movement wanted only to acquire the government, and if they hadn't seen this aspect in Shiaism, they would not have opposed it and would not have introduced a seet by the name of Sunnism in opposition to it.

Thus, politics was the motive for oppission to Shia sm and the command announced by the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). In the beginning, when the leaders of this party star edition activities in those confused times, they hadn't yet put forward a clear way of thinking.

Many factors, primary among which was the threa. If the destruction of Islam through internal armed strife, prevented the telegro-political leaders from reaching for their swords, and this a ded the leaders of the anti-Shi'a school in taking hold of affairs

Since they had no firm thinking for them to follow in practice and in no case respected the prime pie of buy ah (sineguince, and election by the people, the basis of their government was court on and tyraphy

After the event of Saq fan which was the reason for Abi. Bake's assumption of power, 'I mar, with the peculiar courseness and toughness that he possessed, drew his sword and roamed the streets, forcing the people to pledge allegiance to Abu Bake. This coercing came to such a pass that they even demanded allegiance of Ali (peace be upon him) and forcibily took him to the mas, d to obtain his allegiance, after unspeakable insolence to I ady Fāttina (peace be upon her) and descerating the sanciaty of her house.

The government of 'Umar himse f, which he claimed was tormed in accordance to Abi. Bakr's testament, was such that they said that when Abi Bakr was on his deathbed and was in an out of const ousness, he endeavored to write a testament. In that situation, without him specifying the ruler after him, "Jithinan wrote "Umar's name in the testament. When Abu Bakr returned to consciousness, he affirmed it!

Whatever t was, was there even a testament in place? In any case, I mar came to power and no one so much as said to Abu. Bake. "Pain has overcome him.", no regard is given to what this ailing man, who has lost his reason, says. Yet with this very excuse, ey prevented the Prophet peace be upon him and his family) from writing a testament.

Be that as a may with Abu Bakr's appointment 'Umar took control of power and himse f applied a six-member council for after his death

Thus, we come to knew that there was no harmon our dea based on the people's right to elect on involved in the affair. However, when 'Uthman was killed, the Muslims rushed to 'Ali's (peace be upon him) door—and though according to the Shi'a, he alone was the rightful ruler—a. p'edged a ogiance to him. Afterwards, though the apponents of the Shi'a strove to find a religious basis for government and put forward the idea of general allegance or that of the upper class and other contract tory ideas—even force and overpowering—as such a basis, in real ty the standard was nothing but coercion. They acted the such a way that the people had no one do but pledying allegance to the successor appointed by the ruler.

Thus, the Shi's's opponents had no overall program of government, and even in current times one of their higgest researchers who has real zed this tact, says

Commentary on Nanj al-Baläghah, Ibn Abi Hadid, vol. 2, p. 55

"In fact, Islam has not foreseen a particular method in the politics of salecting a ruler any form the people themselves specify becomes the law and is implemented."

D. Cause of the Division of Muslims into two factions, Sunni and Shi'a

The fact is that the real reason for this split was the love of status and power.

A few saw that with the situation that had taken shape, they would have no part in the future leadership; thus from the very time of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) they began grouping and conspiring. One of their major plans was to introduce and then propagate a new school of thought in opposition to the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) stance. They raised the slogan "" (The Book of Allah suffices us, to reduce the value of the existing traditions about Imamah and in the end they introduced these traditions as worthless. For this very reason when the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) wished to write his testament, since they knew this written testament would reinforce his oral testaments, they put up firm resistance. In words also related by Ahi al-Sunnah, 'Umar said,

'Illness has overcome him the rook of Auth suffices us "

According to the narration of others, he said,

&lt;sup>3</sup> Commentary on Neh, al-Baläghah, the Abt. 1-Hadid voi. <sup>2</sup> p. 55.

"The man , The Prophet, speaks monsense" (God forbid), in other case he stood in the way and said, "The book of Allah suffices us," meaning that we have no need of the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his fair. In testament and his explicit statements."

The fitte Sh is was given in the followers of 'Ali (peace be upon him) in that persua by the Propost himself (peace be upon him and his family). The Propost called his sincere followers the Shi's. But his did not result in the division of the Musions into two groups. Though people the Salman Abu Dharr, and Migdad had a firm belief in 'Ali (peace be upon him) from that time, the opponents were not yet an independent group, and these adminitions of the Prophet peace in upon him and his family about Imamah meast that a sinu did low linear 'An (peace be upon him).

But there the death of the Prophet peace be upon him and his family opposition to this command came out in the open and the love of power and ruling over others—which some had set their sights on—caused some, in space of the Prophet's explicit statements about An's successorship, to appose that and cause division in the ranks of the Muslims.

It we wish I in de the facts and present a different explanation, even if untrue we have to say that this division marted when because of their weak taith a group of Muslims did not give the Prophet's (peace he upon him and his tamily, words and counsel the same status as revela on and assumed the book of Allah is sufficient for people's guidance and there is no need for the Prophet's words. It is as if they regarded themselves as the Prophet's could in grasping the Qur'an's principles and purposes.

h Biḥār at-Amedr vol. 30 p. 535

Thus, they did not follow the path be (peace be upon him and his family) had specified and favored their personal opinion and the benefit and harm they themselves perceived for themselves over the Prophet's commands. Or else they considered some of the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) commands as being related to government and administration of society but considered them modifiable as conditions required.

They presumed the successorship was just such an aste and botteved that even if the Prophet (peace be upon him and his fam. y) had appointed his own successor, since his words and actions in their view – did not have the status of revelation opposition to them is permissible. Thus after the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) death these people ignored the Prophet's command and set it aside and with these faise excuses removed the successorship from its specified course.

fiven though they had no proper system of thought for the administration of society in those conditions on which they could have the khildfun st., they insisted that the Pri phet's (peace be upon him and his family) appointee shouldn't take charge of the administration of society, or it isn't expedient. In spite of the fact that in some issues they insisted on implementing the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) command, here their conduct was the opposite, just as when the Prophet peace be upon him and his family) appointed 'Usamah as the leader of the army, they did not leave him in his post. In any case, they thought it was their right to adjust the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) commands, carry out any changes or alterations they thought necessary and make use of prefexts that are worse than the crime itself.

In opposition to this group it was Imam 'Alī (peace be upon him) and a small group of his followers who be leved in the truth of the Prophet's peace be upon him and his family) teachings and commands and would say that the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) words have the ruling of revolution, or rather that they are in fact reve ation as the Qur'an says in this regard

The speaks and of his own desire at is naught but revelation that is reveated.

And the verse

What the Messenger has brought you take and what he forbids you from, avoid "

refers to the commands of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his tamly) which must be implemented without alteration, and we are in no way free of need of the Prophet's counsels and teachings. The religion of its amis perfect and comprehensive from all aspects and no defect can be magned in it.

This group was called Ahl al Nuss (followers of the religious (exis). They would say that the path of re-interpreting and contextual zing these tradial and is closed and the succession of Imām 'An (peace be apon him) was conveyed at Anāh's command to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) by revelation

Sürah Najna (53), verses 3-4

Surah Hashr (59), verse 7

يَا أَيُّهَا ٱلرُّسُولُ بَلِّعْ مَا أَنْولَ إِلَيْكَ مِنْ رَبُّكَ---

'O Messenger' Convey that which has been revealed to thee by thy Lord ... 18

In any case, the Muslims were in this way split into two camps. In truth, using the term "Abl a. Sunnat" (followers of the sunnat) to refer to those who rejected, ancred, and falsely interpreted the sunnat is nearest. Instead, those deserving this title are the ones who remained attached to the Qur'an and Prophetic submat (conduct).

Incidentally intent of those who by chinging to "The book of A lah suffices us" sp. t the Muslims into two camps is that the basic matter of the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) messengership is the book of Aliah and there is no need of the Prophetic sunnat. Even though this group, with there way of thinking, opposed the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) explicit command regarding. Imam 'All (peace be upon him, after they had side ined 'All (peace be upon him) they returned to the Prophet's sunnat in many instances, since they saw that their fallacious way of thinking could not go forward. By raising the alogan 'The book of Allah suffices as it is not possible to obtain needed rulings and solve society's difficulties.

Of course, the opponents of the Sh,'a thought benefited substantially from such slogans and deceived a large group, most of whom were commoners and unaware, and they prevented the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) from writing his testamen. With this excuse they margina ized those who said the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) command regarding the successorship of 'Al., peace be upon him) must be respected and made if their principle that only the Qur an a central. Their aim was that the traditions of Ghater when it dir, and other ahadith not be mentioned. Later, when they saw that without the traditions it is not possible to manage the affairs they became involved in ijthhad our strong an opposition to ahadith (the exercise of personal our top) and accred the explanations of Allah and turned to false interpretations, explanations, and analogy, and they subjected many read tions to doubt.

The only not the Sh'a school, like the origin of Islam itself, is not related to its orient events. Of course, events had and have an effect on people's publical positions and the occurrence of certain appenings that is not the primary factor on all matters. For example, one of the causes and wisdoms in the concealment of the weith analism peace be upon him), as indicated by some traditions was as he opened be upon him) as indicated by some traditions was as he opened be upon him) not be caught up in allegiance to openess the rulers. It wever his existence (peace be upon him) and correspond in the consecutively narrated (mulawdiff) in one, was a desired affair determined in advance and which occurred according to the plan lit is not that the issue of Imamah came about gradually brough time and the course of history has made it necessary.

Through historical research it becomes clear that it is the Sunnischool of thought about the succession that came about as a result of a chain of historical causes, otherwise Shi's thought about the principle of lindingh as explained several times, was founded at the beginning of the Prophetic in ssion the that is a result of Altah's a minand and the Prophetic be upon him and his family) when instructions

thus. Was Shir's thought that influenced history, not history that created it

Opponents of the Shi'a school of thought say that there was no guidance from the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) in this regard. Thus, after the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) demise, the concern and confusion that had taken hold of the Muslims caused them to specify someone as khalifah. This was accomplished in Saqifah after much discussion and searching that resulted in Abu Bakr being chosen as the Prophet's successor Subsequently, in order to avoid unpreasant events and chaos in society. Abū Bakr appointed his successor and 'Umar in turn specified a six-member council for after his death to make a decision in this regard.

All of these occurrences had particular reasons at the head of which was political goals. Though the supporters of this point of view try to portray this important historical happening as natural, facts are at odds with its being natural. On the other hand, in numerous ways they support the Shi's point of view about Imamah.

E. The Religious Basis for Support of the Leadership of Ahl al-Bait (peace be upon them)

Support for the leadership of Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them) from the beginning was based on Islamic teachings. Those who opposed Saqifah and the succession of Abii Bakr had no motive except, their religious duty and guarding the teachings and guidance of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family).

Referring to books tike The Origin of the Shi'a and their Principles, History of the Shi a, The Shi'a in History, and tens of other Shi'a and Sunni books will at least demonstrate that inclination to Shia.sm from the beginning has had only a religious monve

The sermons of Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon him) in Nahy al-Bulāgha affirm that the true position of the Ahl al-Bult (peace be upon them) has truly been material, spiritual, and religious leadership, of which governing is a branch.

•【2】◆ The Shi'a and Armed Uprising

QUESTION:

Is armed apprising one of the conditions of the imāmah of the Imām? Is armed aprising unconditionally and in all situations part of the agenda of the Shi'a? In other words, must the Shi'a a ways be in a state of armed conflict with oppressive systems of government, or are the same conditions relevant here as are mentioned about enjoining good and forbidding evil? Also, what was the role of the Shi'a in the armed uprisings against the government of Banu Umayyah?

ANSWER:

The Shi'a have no agenda regarding jihād against the infidels except the agenda of Islām, which has been explained in depth on books of jurisprudence, and which many jurisprudents consider obligatory only in case of the presence and call of the Imām

However, defending the heart of Islam and honor of the Muslims and repelling the enemies' attacks from the Islamic borders – whether physical, cultural, or economical—is a general obligation.

In fact, according to the verse of the Qur'an preparation to defend and guard the physical and cultural borders is a Divine obligation.

"And prepare what strength you are able and trained horses with which you frighten the enemy of Allan and your enemy." "

In the physical battlefield, this is by acquiring military weaponry and in the cultural or economic battlefield by acquiring the provisions peculiar to that arena. In this aspect, the time of the Imani's presence is no different from the time of his absence.

Just as a Muslim's house, dependents, property, and self must be safe from danger and attack by outsiders.

'One who is killed defending his possessions is a martyr' !!

the islamic homeland as well - which is the home of all - must be free from danger.

This is the gist of the method of dealing with external enemies. As for dealing with internal anti-Islamic events and factors that hypocritically inflict damage on Islam and Muslims on account of seeking power, the positions taken to repel these dangers must be such as are able to remove that anti-Islamic movement

Of course, in instances where this movement jeopardizes the existence of Islam or threatens the laws of Islam and society's security and repelling this danger depends on an armed movement, armed uprising becomes obligatory

In short, in the Sht's way of thinking, complacency with respect to opposing and oppressive events is condemned.

A Muslim must give importance to everything that is related to the honor and grandeur of Islām and Muslims and to elevating the word of Allāh and must always act according to his duty

Still, armed uprising is not among the conditions of the Imāmah of the Imām as has been attributed to the Zaydi sect. It is not the case that every leader of an armed group, if from the descendants and family of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), is regarded as Imām. And one who apparently had no armed uprising and struggle cannot, for this reason, be declared not to be the Imām, as was the case with Imām Zain al-'Abidin, Imām Muḥamad al-Bāqir, and Imām Ja'far as-Ṣādiq (peace be upon him). This is because

First, their non-armed policies were more effective than armed uprising in elevating the name of Islām, guarding the truth, and protecting the shari at in their time

Second, as has been related in the tradition of Maḥmud .bn Labid from Fāṭimah az-Zahrā (peace be upon her):

It is the people's duty to gather round the candle of the Imam's existence and present themselves to assist him, elevate the name of Islam, and guard the objectives of the religion. In such a situation, the Imam chooses whatever position is appropriate.

Thus, Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon him), after the death of 'Uthman, did not leave the people without an answer when they maked to him from all directions to pleage allegiance with that commotion and longing. He said أَمَّا وَالَّذِي فَلَقَ الْحَبَّةَ وَبِرَأَ النَّسِمَةَ لُولًا خُصُورُ الْحَاصِرِ وقِيسِامُ الْحُجَّـةِ بِوُجُودِ النَّاصِيرِ وَمَا أَخِذَ اللَّهُ عَلَى الْقُلْمَاءِ أَلاَّ يُقَارُوا على كَظَّة ظَــالِم وَلا سَعَبِ مَظْلُومٍ لِأَلْقَيْتُ حَبِّلَهَا عَلَى عَارِبَهِ ا وَلَسَقَيْتُ آخِرِهَا بِكَأْسِ أَوْلَــهِ ا وَلَالْفَيْتُمُ ذُلِيَاكُمُ هَذِهِ أَزْهَدَ عِنْدِي مِنْ عَظْفَةٍ عَنْدٍ.

'Lo. I swear by the One who split the seed and created man, were it not for the crowd that had come to me and the establishment of the argument by the presence of supporters and were it not for the cavenant. Atlâh has taken from the 'ulama' (scholars) not to remain silent in face of the waste of the appressors and hunger of the appressed. I would have abandoned the ropes of the khilāfah und filled its latter part with the cup of its former part. You would then have well understood that your world [with all its attractions] is worth less to me than the water that comes out of a sheep's nose! or!

As for the armed revolts against Banü Umayyah, apart from the rebe irons of the Khawarij none of which reached fruition – the cause and motive of a other uprisings was to avenge the blood of Sayyid al-Shuhada' (the Prince of Martyrs) Husayn (peace be upon him) and object to the oppression of Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them). Among those uprisings were those of Ayn al-Wardah and Mukhtar, in both of which a large number of Shi'a participated. Subsequently, there was the revolt of Zaid and other uprisings, all of which sprang from love of Ahl al Bait (peace be upon them) and declaring aversion and hatred towards Banu Umayyab. Therefore, we see that a man like Kumai, participates in the uprising of Abd al-Rahman ibn Muhammad ibn Ash ath or in the last revolt which resulted in the termination of Banu Umayyah's rule and the end of their dominion over most of the lands of Islam

The true motive for the tragic events of Karbala' and the heartrending martyrdom of Zaid, in a word, was the oppression of Ahl al-Bait (peace be upon them).

Thus, what was important in these uprisings against Banü Umsyyah was the role of the Shl's and making use of the oppressed position of Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them), though after the martyrdom of the Prince of Martyrs (peace be upon him) the remaining limâms did not revolt since they did not see conditions as appropriate for the establishment of a just and Islâmic government through armed uprising. So they became involved performing their Divine duty in other trenches, especially in spreading jurisprudence and repelling many innovations.

Even in the events after the success of the last revolt against Banu Umayyah the only personality more fitting than all others for leadership was Imam as-Sadiq (peace be upon him), but though they recommended this task to the Imam (peace be upon him), he refused to accept. His adopting such a policy was, in the belief of the Shl's, in accordance with a command of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) that was disclosed to the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) by revelation. In addition, every Imam recognizes better than all else his duty in light of the existing conditions and always gives precedence to the most important matters over all other matters. In this issue, too, if the Imam (peace be upon him) were to accept rulership, the important interests of Islam would be lost, since it was apparent to every authority that in those conditions there was no possibility of implementing the luminous laws of Islam and establishing a just Islamic system of government.

Imām Ja'far as-Ṣādiq (peace be upon him) and the Shi'a School of Thought

QUESTIONS

Was Imam Ja'far as-Sadio (peace be upon hum) the founder of the Shi's school or is promulgator and explainer?

ANSWER!

Imam as-Sadiq (peace be upon him) acquainted the public with the origina. Shi's school of thought, which perhaps even some friends and devotees of Ahl ai-Balt (peace be upon them) had not recognized properly. By establishing that vast school of knowledge, he familiarized the people with the realities of true Islam, which are fulfilled by following 'Ali and the Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them). This was while in the periods before Imam as-Sadiq (peace be upon him) the opportunity for disseminating knowledge was not to the extent that it reached in his time.

This does not mean that Imam Ja'far as-Sadiq (peace be upon him) is the founder of Shi's thought, since as explained earlier Shi's thought existed in the time of the Propnet peace be upon him and his family) in an organized and systematic manner. Mutawattr traditions and the illuminating guidance of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) had specified its limits, and passage of time and occurrences had no share in its development. Of course, these affairs had an influence in its propagation, promulgation, and organization in later periods, especially in the time of Imam as Sadiq (peace be upon him) and Imam al-Baqir (peace be upon him), and in fact these very incidents made more clear the truth of this school of thought as opposed to the opposing school of thought.

One of the reasons for the success of ShI's thought in the issue of Imamah was that during the rule of Banu Umayyah the people witnessed conduct and actions of the claimants to succession of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) which were incompatible with any of the Islamic laws and principles.

This conduct even became a cause for the people's rebellion against them in different instances though most of these rebellions were quelled by force and in appearance the government of Banu Umayyah continued, but overall these events caused the Shi'a school to spread and become entrenched in people's hearts.

Before Imām as-Ṣādıq (peace be upon him)

QUESTION:

Has the Shi's school been discussed in the speech of the religious leaders before Imam as-Sädiq (peace be upon him)?

ANSWER:

As we mentioned before, Shia am is an genume Islamic school introduced by the person of the Hory Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), and all can understand this point from the matter found in Nahy al-Balāghah and the sayings of Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon him).

Imam Muhammad al-Bägir (peace be apon him) and imam Jaffar as-Sädiq (peace be upon him) explained the various dimensions of this school for the people and perfected the people's information about it and eliminated the over- and under-exaggeration existing regarding this issue.

They demonstrated that the principle of Imāmah was an genuine and entirely Is,āmic concept and the reference point of explaining its reality and limits are the Imāms (peace be upon them), just as they are the reference for explaining all Islamic concepts and terminology and Qur'anic verses. When their imparatioled and great-learned position became apparent, all understood that those eminent men possessed all abilities and at the same time were the sole renable source in recognizing the principle of Imamah and its entire and original concept. Of course, this does not mean that we should presume that the principle of Imamah was their unrovation or, as some who do not believe in the unseen world say, a product of history.

Among the reliable traditions according to Ahl al-Sunnat are the traditions of 'Ali ibn Hussyn (peace be upon him), Imam Muhammad al-Baqir (peace be upon him), and Imam Ja'far as-Sadiq (peace be upon him); as Ahmad Shakir has written in his commentary of al-Ba ith at-Hathith, the spiritus, position and Imamah of the Imams before these two Imams was very firm in the hearts of the people

The bejef that the Imanis are al-Qur'an al-Natiq (the Qur'an that speaks), is they know the specific Qur'anic meanings and expressions, was raised on numerous occasions previous to (main Muhammad al-Baqir (peace be upon him) in the words of his noble father Imam 'Ali Zain al-'Abidin (peace be upon him) and before him in the traditions of Amir si-Mu'minin (peace be upon him), Imam al-Hasan (peace be upon him), and Imam al-Hasayn (peace be upon him). The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) has pointed to this issue in traditions that have passed the limit of (awatur (consecutive narration), and he (peace be upon him and his family) introduced the Imams as equals of the Qur'an. In the books of Ahl al-Sunnat, a sermon has been narrated from Imam 'Ali Zain al-'Abidin (peace be upon him) in which the placing of Imamah in Ahl al-Bait (peace be upon them) and their being the sole referral authority and Divine authority for mankind has been discussed explicitly and in depth

৹【5】₀ Shī'a Ideology is Practical

Qt ESTION:

Keeping in view the fact that aside from the short five-year period of Amir al-Mu'mmin (peace be upon him), the administration of society was not in the hands of the limbins (peace be upon them), to what extent is the system of religious government according to the Shi's view practicable and able to be implemented in society?

ANSWER:

Shi'a thought is a logical school that has and has always had the possibility of being implemented in the core of its teachings.

The Shi's view about the issue of Imamuh is that after the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) the religious and political leader of society must be someone who knows better than all else all the laws and principles the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) brought for the people from Allah. Without doubt during the time of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) none but 'All (peace be upon aim) possessed this distinction, and therefore the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) selected

'A.i (peace be upon him) to succeed him and then introduced the rest of the Shi's Imams, who are twelve people in all, to the people and appointed them his successors

Certainly, this was not because of their physical relationship with the Prophet, rather their spiritua, attributes, intellectual abilities and so forth became the reason that Abāh chose them alone from among the people to succeed the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), just as the Qur'ān says about the successors of the prophets as we.

إِنَّ اللَّهَ آصَّطَهُمَى آدمُ وَلُوْحًا وَآلِ إِبْرَاهِيمِ وآلِ عَمْرَانَ عَلَى ٱلْعَالِمِينَ

'Verity Allah chose Adam, Nuh, the family of Ibrahim and the family of Imran over all the people of the world "

If the people want to tread the true path in all matters, they must follow them and regard them as wall at-amr (guardians of the believers' affairs), must consider it obligatory to obey them, and must respect their commands just like the commands of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). At the same time, the laws and policies broached in the Shi'a school are not imaginary and unreal affairs that could be said to be unable to be implemented. Rather, they are the most genuine is, amic teachings that, if conditions are available, can be implemented in every society

If we see that during a portion of history some people prevented their political aspect from being realized, it does not mean that they cannot be implemented. Rather, since these laws were formulated in view of the realities of the existence of man, all human societies are in search of them, and according to the belief of Shi'as, will in the end reach them. This undertaking will be accomplished at the end of time through the last Divine authority (hujjat), and human acciety will be administered by a single system and law.

In addition, what is fundamental in the call of the prophets is to explain the realities and the path of salvation and the way that leads to ultimate success, which must be announced to the people even in case of certainty that it will not be accepted.

"Surely We have guided him to the Path, whether he be grateful or ungrateful." "

This is because the responsibility of the prophet is to propagate the Divine laws, among which is Imāmah, it is the people who must accept the prophets' invitation and cooperate with the prophets and Imāms (peace be upon them) to make available the opportunity to put it in practice.

The conduct of the Imams (peace be upon them) and their policies were all practical, bearing results, and at the same time realistic.

For example, the conduct of Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon them) was in light of the conditions of existing realities and the conduct of Imâm Hasan al-Mujtabă (peace be upon him) and Imâm Husayn Sayyid al-Shuhadă' (peace be upon him) was the same way. They performed all their actions while keeping in view existing conditions. For example, if Imâm Hasan al-Mujtabă (peace be upon him) made peace with Mu'âwiyah, he took into consideration all the aspects of the issue and in those conditions saw no better course of action. And Imâm Husayn (peace be upon him) consciously refused to pledge allegiance to Yazīd, went to Karbalā' and accepted those sorrowful difficulties, and in the end reached his purpose.

Yes, if Imam Husayn (peace be upon him) had been in a different situation and had seen that the path and provisions for taking charge of the government are ready, he would still have moved to acquire his right and repel the undeserving from the khilafah of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). Hat conditions in his time were such that he knew that the situation is not similable for reaching this aim. Thus, with the great and unparalleled mission which he implemented he created a reawakening in the Muslim world, and as long as the world remains the reawakening of Islam's reviver will remain alive.

He, although apparently he did not prevent. Yazid and all the usurpers of the knitāfah who came after him from usurping the khitāfah, internally turned people's hearts away from them and put to the wind Mu aw yah's plots to defeat Isiām. He performed such a deed that afterwards it was said, "Islām is Muḥammadi in origin and Ḥusaynī in continuance."

The remaining Imains (peace be upon him), too, performed well the responsibility with which they were entrusted in protecting Is.am, keeping in mind existing conditions.

Relief in the appearance of the savior and twelfth Imam gave comfort to the Sur'as and created a spirit of resistance, patience, and perseverance in the people and prevented power-seeking, despair, and carelessness towards religion. It is a belief that has been explicitly mentioned in the core of Shi'a teachings and reliable traditions, and this principle received more attention during the time of Imam a Baqir (peace be upon him) and as Sadiq (peace be upon him) and people's inclination to it increased in light of the transgressions the asurping rulers committed.

The people understood that if some indifferent individuals during the time of the companions—that is, after the Prophet's demise (peace be upon him and his family) conjectured that introducing change in the principle of Imâmah would not bring much change in the Islâmic agenda, in reality it caused a major tragedy and caused Islâm to veer from its true course and the usurped khilāfah became a means of budonism and easy iiving for a few and of fettering the people and a return to the customs of Caesar, Kisra, and other Satanic powers.

This matter strengthened their faith in the principle of Imamah and they understood that it is only the school of thought that can bring islam's agenda to fruition and end that deptorable situation

Thus, the becoming conduct of the Imāms (peace be upon them) on the on hand and the oppressive behavior of the usurpers of the khilāfah on the other caused the Shl'a school of thought to become ever more influential in people's hearts, and as a result their inclination to the Imāms (peace be apon the) began to increase. It is because of this that in spite of the efforts of the rulers, Imām as-Sādiq (peace be apon him) was so popu ar among the masses that the Shl'a themselves are recognized through him

Shī'a Positions with Respect to the Usurping Rulers

QUESTION:

How were the stands of the Shi's with respect to the rulers and on what basis were they taken?

ANSWER!

The positions of the Shi'a have always been on the basis of protecting Islām's interests, preserving the religion, and denying the legitimacy of oppressive and usurping governments, and they have always endeavored, in the form of an opposing front, to establish a powerful Islāmic government on the foundation of religious rule.

In explaining the religious concepts, the Shi's follow only the Qur'an and sunnah and conduct themselves in accordance with the Qur'anic injunction.

وَجَادِهُــُمُ بِالَّتِي هِي أَحْسَنُ

"And debute with them in the best manner "18

by honorable discussion and debate, and also, in instances, on the basis of taquyah (dissimulation) which becomes necessary in certain conditions in all times and places. They do this so that they can guide others to true Islam and the true concepts of the religion and remove society from under the yolk of appressive and usurping rulers and merculess officials

It is thus that we see that the Shi'a have throughout history atways had uprisings against the armed powers

The Shi a believe in the Imamah of those whose names and nfallibility were explicitly mentioned by the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and in taking positions they always act on the basis of Islamic teachings and the conduct of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). In situations when the right conditions at not exist such as a portion of the Life of Amir al-Mulminn (peace be upon him), they give proference to si once and apparently softing aside over rebellion, or conduct themselves like Imam Hasan al-Multaba (peace be upon him) to save Islam from the threat of splintering

However, the even of Karbala' and refusal of Sayyid al-Si uhada' (peace he upon hun) to pleuge alleg ance to Yazid was an uprising the like of which neither had precodence nor will be seen after it

That movement was a model and path-opening agenda of struggle for Muslims

That uprising though apparently it was crushed and defeated, in reality was a successful uprising, since it revived the true Islām and brushed aside the factors of hopelessness and despair from the faces of the Snī a and became a cause of their constancy of thought and strength of spirit. After that, no uprising or movement took place among the Shi'a that was crushed and changed hopes to despair, and the infallible leaders of the Shī'a knew, as per the traditions and through the (special) knowledge of the Imāmah which they possessed, that behef and faith in the Ahl al-Bait speace be upon them) must be propagated in the hearts of the people so that, through an increase in their awareness and by training capable powers in academic, political, and cultural arenas, they can prevent the usurping rulers from opposing them and in this way prepare the way for the rule of the true Islāmic views

The Accusation of "Exaggeration" (Ghuluww) Against the Shi'a

QUESTION:

Some writers classify certain sects of the ghulat as Shi'a and may very well accuse the Shi'a of exaggerating the status of the Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them). We know this is a false accusation that even in our times the Wahhabis resort to by publishing and disseminating pamphlets among those unfamiliar with Shi'a beliefs. If possible, shed some light on this topic.

ANSWER:

The issue of exaggerated beliefs has precedence among previous religious communities. About the Jews and Christians the Qur'an says,

'And the Jews said. I zair is the Son of God' and the Christians said. The Messiah is the Son of God

This disease is also found among the Muslims in various forms, as the hadith denotes Verity you will follow the paths of those who have gone before you in an exact manner to the extent that if one of them were to enter a tizard's hole, you would enter it (loop."

One—form of the above is the simultion that came about regarding Amir al-Mu'm-nin (peace he upon him)

One group began believing in his divinity and praised him in their poetry as their deity. For example, they said

You created the universe
the one who uprooted Khaybar's firm foundations
We are happy with him as a teader and master, and prostrate to him as our (and and Lord)

A few said such words and poems out of hyperbole and exaggeration, not that they truly considered him their God. In addition, it has been narrated from Imani 'Ali (peace be upon him) himself that he said,

هَسَتُ فِي ۗ رَجُلاَن مِحُ بِ عَالِ وَمُبْعِصٌ قَالِ

'Two groups of people will be destroyed on my account the friend who exaggerates in his friendship and the enemy who distikes me. 119

In any case, throughout histor there have been and there are individuals who have had exaggerated beliefs, though not all of them to the extent that they raise someone to the status of Aliah. In any case, these ideas are a form of deviation from Islam and the proper Shi'a creeds. Such beliefs have more often been found among the Sufis, most of who are considered among the Ahl al-Sunnat; ideas such as transmigration (hadal), unity (nuhād), and so forth tend to be found in their writings.

Fortunately, thanks to the guidance of the Imams (peace be upon them), not only did the assue of suffam not spread as much among the Shi's as among the Ahl al-Sunnat, rather it was a so repudiated and condomned by the imams (peace be upon them), their for owers, and the major scholars.

Thus, associating these sales to the Shi'a is slander; the Shi'a beliefs in regard to each of the issues of Divine unity, prophecy. Imamah, and resurrection are free of such exaggerated and devious matters, since the limans (peace be upon them) as protectors of the Divine religion acted in such a way over two and half centuries as to close the path for idolatrous beliefs to penetrate, and the limits and boundaries of the fundamentals of Shi'a thought and doctrine became known. Afterwards, the scholars clearly explained at of these beliefs by compiling and writing books of doctrine, such as the l'inquidit of Majlisi.

Nahj al Bolaghah, edited by Subhi a. Salih Shori Sayings, no. 117

A small group of Sufis was indeed found among the Shi'a who put forth exaggerated beliefs in the name of wildyah and love of 'An (peace be upon him), and in every case with the efforts of the mindfu. 'Ulamā appropriate answers were given them. As a result, they were not able to offer much resistance

The Shi's consider none a partner to Alläh in the His qualities of Majosty and Beauty. They believe the Prophet and Imams (peace be upon them) to be creatures and worshippers of Alläh who are in need of Alläh from all aspects and regard only Alläh as free of need by His essence.

Of course, the qualities, distinctions, elevated status, and ranks of perfection that the Shi's mention for these personalities in accordance with reliable verses and traditions for example they consider them the authority (hujut). Imams, rulers (wall al-amr), and possessed of miracles – in no way have even the scent of exaggeration or polytheism. All of them represent the their perfection, apex of servitude, and degree of submission to the commandments of Allah.

In short, the principle of Imamah is one of the original principles of Islam, that is understood from the verses of Qur'an and abundant traditions narrated from the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). himself, passage of time, conquests, and defeats played no role in its spread and development.

In addition, belief in this principle does not necessitate any form of exaggerated beliefs. All of the qualities that the Imam, in accordance with the traditions, possesses are not incompatible with the imam being a servant of Allah and, I ke the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), being in need of Allah.

وُلاَ يُمْبِثُ لِلصَّبِهِ نَفْعًا وَلا ضَرًّا

"And he controls neither his own benefit nor his loss "20

In fact, the Imam is not even a prophet, meaning that a code of law and rules is not revealed to him, though he is muhaddath (addressed), meaning that angels speak with him. However, his relation to the angels is not like the relation of the prophet to the angel of revelation, who communicates the Divine commands to the prophet, since the principles of all the commands have previously been explained, and messengership and prophecy have been sealed with the demise of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family).

In recognizing the Imam, it is important that one recognize the Imams who were introduced and appointed to the Imamah by Aliah through the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and regard them, like the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), as having general rule and absolute authority (wildyar) over all religious and worldly affairs, and as possessing with the exception of the prophecy, all of the Prophet's qualities, like knowledge and infallibility. In short one must recognize the Imams (peace be upon them) as the true successors of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) in both religious and mundant matters.

From the point of view of materialists and those who don't believe in the unseen world, belief in the unseen world, Divine religious, and the qualities which the faithful attribute to the prophets and friends of Allāh are all mingled with exaggeration. Since the faithful believe in qualities, actions, and traits with respect to them that the materialist is unable to comprehend, he considers them to be the exaggerations of the believers with respect to the prophets and friends of A..ah.

For example, from the materialists' point of view, the miracles of Ibrāhim, Musā, and Isā peace be upon them), in which the faithful behave, are all a form of exaggeration, though no exaggeration exists in these beliefs. All of these form a chain of realities that show the elevated status of their possessors. Exaggeration is to associate the Prophot or Imam with Allân, or regard Ailāh as unified with them, and so forth.

The Relation of the Shi'a with the Mu'tazilah

QLESTION:

For what reason have the principles of religion been divided into five principles? Has the link of the Shi'a with the Mu'tazilah played any role in that?

ANSWER!

The Shi's have conducted discussions and debates about Islâmic issues with all sects, as mentioned in books of kalâm (theology, and polemics. However, they have not influenced it with regard to any issues of creed. As we have mentioned numerous times, the Shi's school of thought is an original Islâmic school of thought, though the remaining sects appeared afterwards.

The beliefs of the Shi's are not limited to these five principles, but rather comprise many other issues as well. Of course, in one exposition, the Islāmic beliefs can be summarized into tawhīd (Divine imity), nubūwwah (prophecy), and ma ād (resurrection), or in tawhīd and nubūwwah, since the remaining beliefs, such as Imamah (vicegerency) and resurrection are a part of the issues which the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) preached and informed about. And according to the narrations, faith in the prophecy consists of faith in all that the Prophet conveyed.

Faith in the prophecy consists of faith in all that the Prophet conveyed

On this basis, these five principles - Divine unity, Divine justice, prophecy, Imamoh, and the resurrection - are among the principles in which all Mus ims must be seve. Reason and revelation also affirm them. Summarizing the beliefs in these five principles is because the Shi's regard the issue of Divine justice and the Imamah as important as the remaining principles of belief, but Ah, ai-Sunnat - the Ash ar sec. do not believe in them.

The Shi's have taken the Islâm c beliefs directly from the Holy Qur'an and the traditions of the Prophet and Imâms (peace be apon them) and have not been influenced by the Mu'tazilah with respect to any of their beliefs, since the Mu'tazilah sect came into being afterwards.

If we see that the Mu'tazi, ah share the Shi'a view in some issues, what is proper is that we say that they have taken these views from the Shi'a Imams either directly or indirectly. The well-known proverb. "Belief in coercion and anthropomorphism is Umayyad and belief in Justice and unity is an Alawi doctrine," confirms this claum

In spite of this, some writers who are ignorant of the Shi'a school of thought and have researched the Mu'tazili and Ash'arī sects have assumed the Shi'a scholars, among them Sayyid Murtadā, were Mu'tazili since they found them opposed to some Ash'ari behefs.

The Secret of Choosing the Imams

QUESTION:

What was the secret of appointing the limites (peace be upon them) to the position of imamah and witayah? Is human intellect able to understand this?

ANSWER:

This question is not execusive to the appointment of the Imams (peace be upon them, but can be brought up regarding the selection of all the prophets and even angels such as Jibra'il, the Irustee of revelation, and regarding the superiority of some prophets over others and some nations and individuals over others, and in the same way about the superiority of humanity over many other types of creation

The reality is that selection is among the acts of Allah, as numerous verses indicate

إِنَّ اللَّهُ ٱصَّطْفِي آدُمُ وَلُوحًا وَآلِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَآلَ عِمْرَانَ عَنَّى ٱلْعَالَمِينَ

and many more verses, a., of which indicate that selection is one of the acts of Allāh in 11 s wisdom, or rather is one of the Divine manners of conduct.

There is a treatise by Zaid al-Shahid, the son of Imam Zain al-'Abidin (peace be upon him), called al-Safwah in which he has studied the same of the selection of the Anl al-Balt

The issue of granting tank exists in the natural world as well, and its necessity is entirely understandable by reason. Just as all species cannot be ong to the human species, and all organs cannot be the eyes or head or brain, and all fruits and plants cannot be berries and squash, and the entire tree cannot be the branch, caves, or roots, in the same way, all individuals cannot be perfect in their manners, quanties, and features. That is, all cannot be Muhammad (peace be upon him and his family), "All (peace be upon him), fbrāhim al-Khal, tpeace be upon him), or Mūsā al-Kalīm (peace be upon him).

The issue of being an Imam or a follower (ma milm) as well is such that it is either through Allah's decree and natural causes or through direct specification and selection by Allah. In any case, all of these are signs that are laden with secrets and wisdom which only Allah Himself knows.

In these affairs none has the right to say, "Why was I not made into someone or something elsa?" or, for example, "How come all the angels were not made Jibrā'il al-Amin (the Trustworthy) and all people were not made Muḥammad al-Muṣtafā (the Chosen)?" or "Why weren't all of the world's mountains and rocks made of gold?" If such a thing were to happen, the perfection of the world would become subject to defect and the order and coordination existing among its various parts would cease to exist.

This is though the Noble Qur'an itself speaks thus about the order and minute coordination existing among the parts of the universe:

وَالشَّمْسُ تَجْرِي لِمُسْتَقَرِّ هَا ذَلِكَ تَقْدِيرُ الْعَزِيسِ ِ الْعَلِيسِمِ ۞ وَالْقَمَسِرُ قَدْرُنَاهُ مَنَازِلَ حَقَّ عَادَ كَالْعُرَاجُونِ الْقَدِيمِ ۞ لاَ ٱلشَّمْسُ يَنْبَغِي فَسَا أَنْ تُدْرِكَ الْقَمَرَ وَلاَ اللَّيْلُ سَابِقُ اللَّهَارِ وَكُلِّ فِي فَلَكِ يَسْتِحُونَ.

"And the sun travels in its appointed path, that is the decree of the Mighty, the Knowing. And We have appointed phases for the moon until it becomes like an old, yellow, date branch. Neither is it appropriate for the sun to overlake the moon nor does the night overtake the day, and all float in their orbit. "36

'Everything in the world is in its place— If you look well nothing is more or less

All Divine decrees are just and wise-

Our intellects can I fathom the secrets of creation '

While the human world is a world of choice and selection, the secrets of these matters—i.e. Divine decrees and selection are so complex that it can be said that even if humanity were to conduct research and studies for millions of years to come, they would still be faced with many unknown secrets.

In summary, the world of creation is a world of causes and effects, and at the same time the human world is a world of choice and duty

The wise Divine decrees and ordinances govern all affairs. Understanding the reasons for selection of an Imam or prophet and its creations, and discretionary aspects, and other such issues, requires an intimate knowledge of all the secrets of Divine actions and the universe. Only those who have come under Allah's special guardianship understand the fine points of those matters, and all of the prophets and imams (peace be upon them) were as such

A.I human individuals have been encouraged by various means to strive to gain mastery over the sun and moon, and so forth, and since Allah has made them subservient to humanity, they can try to comprehend the secrets of things and make use of their benefits; but if they are unable to understand something's cause or causes, they must regard it as a Divine decree and make use of its existential blessings.

Thus, it is our duty to make use of the teachings and guidance of the prophets and Imams (peace be upon them) and regard the blessing of their existence and guidance among the greatest of D vine blessings and make them our role-models. And if we are unable to comprehend the philosophy of the selection of these true Divine proofs with our imperfect intellects, we must not turn to rejecting or opposing them. Otherwise, we will be regarded as among those people who in the era of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) himself denied—either out of ignorance or with ulterior motives—that the selection of the progeny was Divine. The Noble Qur'an, in the course of a verse, mentions them as follows.

"Or are they envious of the people (the Prophet and his progeny) on account of what Alläh has granted them out of His abundance? Verily, we granted the family of Ibrāhīm the Book and wisdom and granted them a great kingdom."

According to the Qur'anic commentaries, this verse was revealed about them. It is inclimbent upon us to understand, through reflection and contemplation of the circumstances of the universe, that everything is found in its particular place and the Divine knowledge and wisdom is evident in all of the great and small creations of the Lord of the Universe. Therefore, precisely as we read in one of the verses of the Noble Qur'an,

"Allah best knows where to place His messengership." 48

Thus, selection of the prophets and Divine legatees is among the affairs that, like all the other actions of the Loro of the Universe, are possessed of their own particular wisdom, though humanity with its

imperfect knowledge and intellect may be unable to fathom its secrets and complexities

Allāh's Knowledge and the Infallibles' (peace be upon them) Knowledge of the Unseen

OLESTION:

Shed some light on the knowledge of the unseen of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and the pure Imams (peace be upon them). And in this regard, considering the principle that Alfah has no partner in His knowledge and other attributes of perfection and beauty, explain the difference between Alfah's and the Imam's knowledge and between the Imam's and the Prophet's knowledge.

ANSWER:

Anyone who studies the books of history, traditions, and biographies will not doubt the fact that the Hony Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and the pure Imams (peace be upon them) made known many unseen matters most of which took place in the world within a short period.

These reports, especially what has come down from the person of the noble Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon him), are great in number, and each one of them is considered a part of the major in racles of this house.

In fact, as affirmed by individuals like [bn Khaldun, in many instances Imām Jo far al-as Şādiq (peace be upon him) would give news about unseen matters. Of course, the difference between Allāh's knowledge of the unseen and that of those personages is that Allāh's knowledge is by essence, while the knowledge of the Prophet or Imām is outside of their essence, that is, it has been granted thom by Allāh.

Allah is unique, peerless, and independent of others in all His attributes of perfection, but the Prophet and Imam are in need of Aliah with respect to their knowledge and all other attributes of perfection which they possess, and in a word, everything they have, whether from the aspect of existence or attributes, is from Allah. They are existent through 11 m and knowledgeable and possessed of power through Him.

However, the difference between the Prophet and Imam with regard to awareness of unseen matters is from the aspect that in the Prophet's knowledge, no human being is an intermediary between him and the unseen world, white the Imams (peace be upon him) have acquired a portion of this knowledge through the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family)

In any case, what is certain is the knowledge of those personages and their giving news about unseen matters, which is as clear and sure as the sun sharing in the center of the sky

In this regard, if one wants to find out it more depth about the reports of the unseen, he should refer to books of the lives and history of the Imams (peace be upon them).

According to the level of my own understanding, I have offered explanations, though concise, in the books The Radiance of Wilayat, Commentary on Duā' al Nudbah, and Creational and Legal Wilayat.

The Countenance of the Imams' (peace be upon them) Conduct

QUESTION:

Why were the conduct, manner, and methods of the Imams (peace be upon them) not the same in regard to performance of their duty?

ANSWER:

Contrary to what is said, the conduct of the limans (peace be upon them) in confronting various events that were similar to an extent was not very divergent, since all of their conduct was within the scope of the principles and agenda of Shiaism, which are the original principles of Islam itself. All of their actions and programs demonstrated the truth of Islam and its redemptive teachings. And if we see that the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be upon them) each acted in one way in one important phase of their noble lives and in another way in another phase, this is in entirety a result of the commandments of Islam and the Qur'an,

This is because Islam has both the command,

إِلاَّ أَنْ تَتَقُوا مِنْهُمْ ثَقَاةً except that you protect themselves from them (and practice dissimulation for the sake of more important goals). 30 and the command

except one who is compelled while his heart is tranquit with faith ""

And it also has the command

Struggle against the disbettevers and hypocrites and he harsh towards them 1981

as well as

Act with compassion and accept their excuse and command towards goodness and turn away from the ignorant (and fight them not). 1882

'Nor are good and evil alike, repel evil with what is most good. As

Likewise, the Qur'an says

"So whoever transgresses with respect to you, transgress with respect to him in a like manner ""

And it also says with regard to executing the punishment for adulterers

'And let not compassion for them overtake you in executing Allah's command." Allah's

Overall, the conditions and situation of the Imam's (peace be apon them) or a demanded the very same form of conduct for the protection of the Islamic principles and the essence of Shiaism that they in practice adopted, and of course the Shi's must follow the path of true is, am, which the Imam recognizes better than all else and doesn't deviate from even an inch

The Limits of the Imam's Leadership

QUESTION:

Just as the range of the linam's leadership includes guidance of the people, clue dation of religious rulings, exegests of the Qur'an, and answering objections, it also includes political issues, protecting the order of society, implementing Islamic rules, establishing justice, ensuring security, and protecting the borders of Islam.

Please explain the relationship of these two parts with the principle of Imamah and explain to what extent Shi's have accepted this issue

ANSWER:

As has been indicated, their range of leadership includes both parts, and in reality these two parts are inseparable. However, the issue that was the focus of attent on and covetousness of usurping politicians, and oppressors was political eadership and taking control of the leadership of society.

Thus, their opposition to the Imams (peace be upon them) was focused on this aspect, and if they opposed them from the aspect of guidance in religious affairs—that is, if they entered the field by making institutions of learning ibraries, and schools—this was so that the people would feel less of a need for the guidance of the Imāms (peace be upon them), and as a result, distance themselves from them, in order that they do not come under the effect of the spiritual and religious training of the Imāms (peace be upon them).

Again, it was for this very reason that they feared the Imams' becoming well-known in intellectual and social circles, since they used to observe that the becoming known of their intellectual ability and enlightening guidance occasioned the progress and mastery of Shi's thought and the people's increased inclination towards the Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them).

The fact that in books of kalam, Imamah has been defined, in the words of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), as "authority over all respicus and worldly affairs of human ty" shows that in this definition their attention was primarily to the Imam's authority over social affairs and his vicegerency of the Prophet in governing. This is because the dimension of the leadership and authority of the Imams in resgious and spiritual matters and the interectual engineers of the Ahl al-Bait (peace be upon them) were undertable. Since enlightenment and guidance of people in religious and spiritual, affairs was not sinked to political issues, it was not opposed by the power-seekers.

And even if they desired to oppose them in this aspect, the people would not have accepted it, since the people were aware of their intellectual ability

From the meaning of the word 'widayah" (authority), primarily the leadership and administration of social affairs, governing, and maintaining order are understood.

Verses of the Qur'an and many tradmons, such as the manawattr tradition of Ghadir also support this understanding. The following two verses are an example

"Your walt is none but Allah and His messenger and the believers, those who establish the prayers and pay the poor-rate while they kneel (in their prayers)." "16"

"Obey Allan and obey the Messenger and those in authority among you (the Prophet's legatees) ""

The word Imamuh also indicates the aspect of spiritual Imamuh and intellectual and religious leadership to the same degree, as the following verse expresses:

'And we made them leaders who guide at our command and we revealed to them the performance of virtuous deeds.' All

In addition to these, many other verses and traditions such as the tradition of thaqutayn, safinah, uman, and other traditions indicate this point. Thus, it has come in the tradition of thaqulayn.

'Do not precede the Ahl al-Buit and do not go before them

In other words, be their followers. If greater attention is paid to the content of the mentioned verses and traditions, it will become known that they indicate both dimensions of leadership, thus the Shī'a have always considered the Imam the possessor of both positions, political leadership, and spiritual leadership, and have considered others to be usurpers.

The usurping rulers also knew this reality that according the Shi'a, the Imam's leadership is absolute—and thus, occas enally shough they were confident that the Imam of the time did not intend to rise, they would not cautiously. As an example, Mansur had this belief with regard to Imam as Sadiq (peace be apon him). Star, he wouldn't abandon precaution, always kept the Imam under the surveillance of his secret officers and would create difficulties for him in various ways. In the end he was star unable to hear the existence of the Imam, since he viewed the method the Imam had adopted as dangerous for his government, for this very reason he marryred him.

Hartin adopted the same method. He neld Imam Musa al-Kadim (peace be upon thin) in prisons and under surve flance for many years, since he knew the Sh,'a consider both positions of spiritua, and worldly leadersh p as belonging to the timam.

As opposed to this, the role and conduct of the Imams (peace be apon them), which was a cause of the protection of Shi'a thought and Islamic laws, was very important. It is possible to regard it as their miracle, and such action was not possible except through special Divine instruction.

Amir al-Mu'mirun (peace be upon him, and Imām Ḥasan (peace be upon him) adopted their particular policies, while linām Husavn (peace be upon him) undertook his great uprising. In the same way, the remaining Imāms (peace be upon them) each acted in a particular fashion. If they were not to do so, no path or method opposed to those tyrannous policies would be able to survive under such annihilating strikes, yet we see that the school of Shiaism survived and even until today is known in the world as the symbol of true is am and the herald of a just world government.

One point worth noting is that all of the Imams (peace be upon him) would promise that spiritual, intellectual, and practical leadership would in the future — in the age of the reappearance of Imam Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return) (peace be upon him) - be united with political leadership, which hitherto was usurped by the oppressive rulers, and under the shadow of that leadership, all of Islam's goals will be achieved

• 13 > The Number of the Shi'a Imāms

QUESTION:

As we know, the true Twelver [mam] sect is called "twelver" (Ithnā ashariyya) since its fo owers be, eve that after the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), his successors were twelve people. And among all of his 'ummah (community), they are the sole group who hold this belief thus, the trad trops about the twelve Imams which both Shi's and Sunnis have narrated - and whose origin from the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) is undeniable - can only be applied to the Shi's sect among al. Muslims. Naturally, the true sect will be amited to this group. In spite of all this, it is said that from some traditions - a few of which have been narrated in the book of Su,aim it is possible to understand that the number of the Imams is thirteen, and this view has also been attributed to Ibn Sani a.-Nawbakhti. If, as it is said, a tradition with this content exists (or if Nawbacht; himself held this view, though this appears unlikely), how can it be explained and affirmed?

ANSBER:

We have given sufficient explanation about the tradition or traditions that indicate that the number of Imams (peace be upon them) is thirteen in the treatise 'Clarity of Vision for One Who Follows the Twetve Imams' There, we have carried that the a tradition with this meaning does not exist, moreover, even if such a tradition with a single narrator and with regard to principles of religion, besiefs, and issues in which attaining certainty is essent a traditions with single narrators are not relied upon

In such an instance, only a firm rations, argument or a tradition that is consecutively narrated (mulawdiff) and certain to have originated from an infallible can be reflect upon

Furthermore, traditions that are mutawater and have even passed the I mits of tawater (consecutive narration) indicate that the number of the linkins is twelve. In such a situation, if a single non-certain tradition is found in apposit on to all these traditions, what creditability can it have, and how can a researcher rely on it? In addition, in the Mushad of Ahmad alone, it has been narrated through thirty-odd chains of narrators from the Nobie Prophet (peace be upon him and its farmity) that the number of Imams (peace be upon them, is twelve, and in the Samily of Muslim this point has been narrated through eight chains, and likewise in the remaining collections, Salulys, Sanaris (books of the sunnah), and books of the Ahl al Sunnat, this topic has been referred to numerous times.

In Shi'a books as well traditions have been narrated with hundreds of claims that the Imams will be twelve, all of which were narrated by well-known companions and followers (tabt'in) up to two centuries before the birth of the twelfth Imam Mahdi (may

Allah hasten his return, (peace be upon him), and in reality this is counted as a type of prediction and information about the future.

In spite of all this, it was said that a tradition has been narrated from Sulaim that the Prophet (peace be apon him and his family) said to Amir al-Mu'minin (peace be apon him). You and twelve people from your progen, are the true Imams.

The reality is that in the present text and the reliable texts that before our time were in the possession of the scholars this tradition did not exist. Moreover, there are many traditions in the book of Sulaim ibn Qays riself that explicitly mention the Imams and their names as twelve people, and have specified the names of those twelve personages from Amir al-Mai'minin (peace be upon him) to Imam Mahdi (may Alah hasten his return, (peace be upon him in the same order in which the Shi'a be ieve.

This book, written in the first century after the H<sub>3</sub>rs, sirel able and the sum of its material clearly establishes the truth of the Imami school, since it contains news about mams who were not even born in that time. Firm signs and evidence indicates the correctness of this book.

Now, if we suppose the book contains such a tradition, that tradition can be interpreted in light of other books of tradition one. That is, the intent of the tradition is to indicate the number of the Imams and that they are from the progeny of 'A', (peace be aposition), and since the majority is even out of twelve of the Imams are from his progeny, it was explained in these words which, it is likely, have not even been narrated in entirety.

Ibn Nadim attributed this view opposing the traditions regarding twelve Imams to Abū Sah, Nawbakhti, which appears not to be correct, since Abu Sahl Nawbakhti is not a person to express such an opmion, which has no evidence worthy of consideration. In Shi'a books of biographies and rijāl (biographies of the narrators of hadith), in which the Nawbakhti family has been mentioned in detail, such a view has not been related regarding Abū Sahl in the section pertaining to him or to others, all have praised his school of thought, belief, and action. It appears these are the same types of mistakes that occur in the books of biographies and sects, and the writers of which have passed over them out of carolesaness.

Attributing such baseless be refs to well-known individuals has no result after than to mislead uninformed or ill-informed people

In any case, the issue of Mahdawiyyah (messianism) and concealment and the remaining issues exclusive to the twelfth Imam (peace be upon him) have been in discussion since the beginning of Islam. Rather, in accordance to what is in the extant Torah and Bible, the precedent of this belief has roots in Divine religions previous to Is am and in the Old and New Testaments.

Principality of Reason or Narration in Specifying the Imam (peace be upon him)

QUESTION:

In the issue of Imāmah, between reason and narration, which is given precedence? In other words, are the issues pertaining to the topic of Imāmah primarily provable through intellectual proofs or narrated proofs?

ANSWER!

As can be understood from the question itself, issues are of two types. One type are the issues that are ascertained through reason and are accepted through application of logical procedures and intellectual proofs, such as proving the existence of Al äh, H s essential attributes of perfection, and the necessity of prophecy, i.e. the proof of prophecy in genera. The other type are those issues that are proved solely through narration, meaning that there is no way of proving them except revelation and relation by a truthful relater, that is, a prophet or linam whose prophecy or linamah is already established. Among these issues, there are also some issues that can be established in both ways. Of course, in this case the narrated proofs are a form of guidance towards the intellectual proofs.

The researcher must be well attent vo to this aspect of issues and must see which discuss on can be established through reason, which through narration alone, and which through both methods. And in each case, he should commence according to the method peculiar to that, same we that he can reach an appropriate conclusion. Otherwise if he wishes to enter into an exclusively narrational usue through reason, it is natural that he will not reach a valid conclusion.

It is possible that some may raise a question regarding whether the principality of reason takes precedence in the issue of Imamah over the principality of narration or not

The answer is that that in the issue of Imamah like the issue of prophecy and the conditions of a prophet, proving the principle of general Imamah, the proving the principle of a need for the existence of the Imam and the conditions of the Imam, is accomplished through reasoning. Of course, if the issue of Imamah were among the issues that are outside the limits of understanding of human reason and reasoning did not understand it independently, it could be proved by narrational evidence alone, he the guidance of the Prophet. This is because reliance on narrational evidence with regard to the principle of Imamah, as opposed to the principle of prophecy does not involve circular reasoning, though in the issue of prophecy it involves circular reasoning.

Thus the narrational proofs of Imāmah can also be regarded, similar to the narrational proofs of the principle of prophecy, as guidance to the decree of reason.

Issues such as the necessity of infallibraty, how the lmām is appointed, and the fact that this affair has not been de egated to the people are principles pertaining to reason. And existing narrational proofs affirm this decree of reason.

It is obvious that with groups who, like the Asha'ira, do not believe in rational good and evil, discussion can only be held through those narrational proofs. Some of the effects and benefits of the existence of the Imain and his distinctions can only be proved through narrational proofs, just as these effects and unique traits are proved for the Prophet through narrational proofs.

In the issue of the specific Imamah (the Imamah of a particular person) as well, like the specific prophecy in which explicit declaration by the previous prophet is a proof of the prophecy of the following prophet, the prophet's declaration of the Imamah of the Imamah of the following Imam is a proof of his Imamah. There is this difference that the principle way of establishing prophecy is a miracle, since the only true way to establish the prophecy of the first prophet is through a miracle and this is the only reliable evidence of the claim of prophecy, though the prophets after his prophets and by miracle, and the Divine way has also been to send prophets along with miracles, since the establishment of prophecy shrough a miracle is comprehensible by all.

However, the method of declaration by the previous prophet is only an authoritative proof for behavers in that previous prophet. It is for this reason that we say that the method of establishment by miracle is a general way, which is an authoritative proof for all Still, establishing the occurrence of a miracle at the hands of a prophet is limited to narrational methods for one who is absent from the time and place of occurrence of the miracle. Certainly, the Glor ous Qur'an is the only miracle whose establishment has no need of narrational proofs, since it is existent, just as the explicit declaration of the Qur'an that it is impossible to bring its like indicates that it is a miracle.

In the 18842 of Imamah, the Imamah of the first Imam is established solely by the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) declaration, and since it has been proven in the discussion of general. Imamah that the Imamah of the Imam is through specification by the Prophet by command of Allah, the miracle that is manifested by the Imam, just us it is an independent proof of the truth of claim of Imamah, is also a proof of the declaration of the prophet if such a declaration by the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) is not in our hands. Refunce on rational proofs in the issue of specific Imamah is in order to establish the existence of a specific declaration.

For example it can be said that it is obligatory for the prophet, in that A ah in his absolute wisdom, has commanded the prophet to explicitly declare the Imamah, to specify and introduce the Imam after himself, even if that declaration is no longer accessible by us or has become ambiguous or its purport has become subject to doubt. Since the claim of a declaration has not been made except with regard to a specific personality. Imam 'Ali ibn Abi Talib (peace be upon him), rationally, the person specified by Allah and the Prophet is not other than 'Ali ibn Abi Talib (peace be upon him).

Or it can be said that since the condition of the Imam—who is appointed by Allah and the prophet to lead humankind in religious and worldly affairs—is infallibrity, and the claim of infallibrity has not been made for anyone except 'All the Abi Talah (peace be upon him), rationally 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭāib (peace be upon him) is the appointed and infallible Imām

Similarly, with regard to the twelfth Imam it is said that according to narrational proofs, the world is never without an Imam and Proof (hugar) of Al ah - apparent or hidden and in this long period of over a thousand years, the chain of Imamah is not to be severed. And since the claim of Imamah has not been forwarded for anyone other than that personage, or if it has been made its invalidity has been proved, aside from him, who is in concealment, no one class is the Imam and he is the Imam. And if he is not the Imam, other objections discussed previously in the issue of the general Imamah with once again arise.

This is though there is no justification for raising them, since the result of such discussions leads to matters such as the performance of evil by Allah, the Wise, and so forth, from the like of which Allah's essence is pure and free.

Original Source of Belief in Imāmah and Faith in The Appearance of the Twelfth Imām (peace be upon him)

QUESTION:

From which Islâmic sources has the position and esteem (1 tibar) of the Imāmah and leadership and faith in the reappearance of Imām Mahdī (may Allān hasten his return) been understood? And what effect have events and the passage of time had on the completion of this principle?

Answer-

According to a verse of Qur'an, Imamah is a station that was granted to Ibrāhim al-Khali. (peace be upon him) after that great test—trial by kalimat (words)<sup>49</sup> According to traditions that are consecutively narrated (mutawātir) and which both Shi's and Sunnis have related, this station was also placed in the Ahl al-Bait of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and they have been singled out for this great Divine gran.

On this basis it has been established that in every era an individual from this fantly who possesses the necessary capabilities, including knowledge and infallibility, will be responsible for the station of Individu and leadership

Such an individual is the proof (hagat) of Anah, equal of the Qur'an guide of the people, and protector of the religion and Divine law. Imamah is a principle that has been established from the time of the Prophet of Anah (peace be upon him and his family) until our time and will continue from our time until the end of the world. The point of its apparent perfection and complete flowering will be during the age of the graddening reappearance of Imam Mahd, may Allah hasten his return) and establishment of his united just world government, during which the world will be filled with equity, justice, goodness, and blessings through the blossoming of all human potentials and colest at blessings.

The agenda of forming a new world community which must end in spreading just ce and the sovereignly of tawhad (Divine unity) is understood from the core of Islamic teachings. The Noble Qur'an in several chapters has announced it is and hundreds of prophetic traditions have related the world's adoption of Islam and the government of justice and establishment of complete security in the land after the reappearance of the promised Mahdi (may Alfah hasten his return), who is from the descendents of 'Ali and Fatimah peace be upon her) and shares the name and agnomen (kunya) of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family)

Be tef in the appearance of Imam Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return) with the ment oned qualities is something which has been mentioned in Islām's primary texts. According to consecutivelynarrated (mutawātir) traditions, the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) has given news of this blessed event and requested his "ummat (community, to be in wait of that consequents, day

Though the issue of appearance is deduced from the general tidings pertaining to Islām's becoming supreme in the world and truth overcoming falsebood, this does not mean that the issue of appearance is solely a concept deduced from the purport of traditions, since the text and very words of narrations point to it independently, and most of the faithful rely one these very texts that explicitly point to the appearance of Imam Mahdi (may Allāh hasten his return) and its signs.

Once it is known that the foundation of the existence of this belief is the general tidings and texts of traditions, it can be said that historical conditions and events that occurred after the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) had no role in its coming into existence

This is because the origin of this idea is the era of prophecy and the traditions related to it exceed one thousand Jacktions, which are narrated in books traditions, commentary, and many other books. Prominent Sunni scholars have also written independent books about it, and books written more than twelve centuries ago by the greatest experts and researches of Islamic sciences clearly indicate that the person of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) gave fidings about the issue of the appearance of the Promised Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return), and his companions, the followers (tabi in) of the companions, and after them other generations of people have narrated them

The Qur'an and Messianism (Mahdawiyyut)

Question.

Which verse of the Noble Qur'an can be cited regarding the authority (withput) of the twelve linkins (peace be upon them) and the just government of linkin Mahdi (may Alikh hasten his return, and the supremacy of Islam over the world?

Answer

The verses from whose purport it is understood that the twelve Imams—may Allah elevate their word—have authority and Imamah are many in number

Among them is the verse

إِنَّمَا أَلَتَ مُنْدِرٌ وَلَكُنَّ قَوْمٍ هَادٍ

'My rovenant reaches not the oppressors (and only that group of rour descendants is worthy of this position who are pure and infadible) <sup>(d)</sup>

and the verse

Thus is one who givens to the truth worther of being followed? "Se

These verses indicate this point since from them one understands has see ety is not without an Imam, the nfallibuity of the holder of the station of Imamah, and his being more knowledgeable than others, and this issue is among the exclusive convictional principles of the Shi'a. And from the verse

O se who have brought faith! Obey Allâh and obey the Messenger and those in authority among you (the trustees of the Prophet).

This coctrine of the Sh'a that the limit and ruler must be infamble is understood. This is because in this verse obcurence to those in authority has been commanded in an absolute manner. Obedience to the Prophet which similar affairs, has been expressed together with obcurence to those in authority in one word, the imperative verb such, 'obey."

It is obvious that someone whom the helievers have been ordered to obey absolutely in such a way mile; he infat bie and far removed from errors and mistakes, and as it is undisputed that from among

In addition to this, commentaries and reliable traditions also indicate that the intent of the noble verse "Obey Allāh." and other verses is the twelve limbins (peace be upon them), and in these commentaries, the blessed names of these personages are also mentioned explicitly.

As for the supremacy of Islâm in the world and its overcoming all religions, it is sufficient to pay attent on to verses 32 and 33 of Sûrah at-Tawba, verse 28 of Surah al-Tath, verses 6 and 8 of Sûrah al-Şaff, and numerous other verses in them, the promise of appearance and true religion's overcoming all religions has been given, a promise that will come to pass with the appearance of Imâm Mahoi (may Allân hasten his return), and this is inviolable.

In regard to the appearance of Imam Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return) in particular, many verses have been elucidated to refer to it, which exceed one hundred verses in all. The book Al-Mahaya fi ma Nazata fi al-Qā im at-Ḥuya (The Final Destination Regarding What Has Been Revealed About the Twelfih Imām) has collected a coff thom.

Among those verses is this verse:

وعد الله الدين آمنوا منكم وعَمِنُوا الصَّالَحَاتُ لَيَسْتَخْمِقَاهُمْ فِي الأَرْضِ كما السَّاخَلُف اللّذِينَ من قبْلهمُ ولِيُمكِّنَّ لَهُمْ دِيْنَهُمُ اللّذِي ارْتَضَى لَسَهُمُّ ولِيُبِدُّلَهُم من بقد خَوْفهمُ أَمْنَهُ يَعْبُدُونِي لا يُشْرِكُون بِي شَسِيتُ وَمَسِنُ كَفر بعْدَ دلتَ فَأُولَنِكَ هُمُ الْفَاسِقُونَ

He made rulers those before them and shall make firm for them their religion which He has chosen for them and shall change their fear into security, they will warship Me and associate none with Me and whoever dishelieves after that, it is they who are the iniquitous.

and this verse

Belief in the Appearance of the Mahdi and Savior and the Appearance of False Mahdis

Question.

Belief in the appearance of the Mahdl and savior has caused the appearance of false Mahdls throughout history, and some make this circumstance a justification for setting aside this idea. To what extent can this viewpoint be accepted?

Answer

This viewpoint is absolutely unacceptable, or else humanity must set aside all positive viewpoints. This is because all of them have more or eas been subject to misuse. All of the individuals who claimed to be God or regarded themselves the manifestation of God, united with God, or regarded God to have taken abode in them have all misused the principle of belief in Allah. This act on in no way harms the issue of belief in Allah.

Similarly all of the false prophets who claimed prophecy and misled a people do not transmit any damage to the correctness of the principle of prophecy. This issue arises in more or less every field and industry, but that incident brings no harm to that field itself.

Discussions Concerning al-Mahd.

In short, if any name or word that has a good and attractive meaning has been used for its opposite, this does not damage these values and good affairs themselves, such as if a betrayer has been eased trustworthy, an oppressor called just, an ignorant person called learned, a sinner called God fearing, or if all treachenes and oppressions have been committed in the name of well-wishing and seeking reform.

The Effect of Social, Economic, and Political Factors in Religious Thought

Question

What effect have see al economic, and political factors had on religious thoughts and creeds and on belief in the appearance of the Mahoi (may Allah haster his return)?

Answer:

From the viewpoint of the godless worldview, all affairs must be attributed to historical and materia, causes

However, from the viewpoint of the religious worldview, the source of that which is genuine and true from among various ideas and creeds is revelation, the call of the prophets and the inborn comprehension of humanity, which is referred to as the guidance of reason, natural disposition, revelation, and prophecy

In the eyes of this viewpoint, a, of the devious courses and barmful thoughts are the effect of materia, and historical causes, personal goals, and deficiency of culture of society and its upbringing. Religious creeds taken from revelation and prophecy are all genuine and actual and have a place in humanity's nature.

History, the passage of time, human knowledge, and material causes do not bring them into existence. Rather, the source of conviction about matters such as the principle of the messengership of the prophets and lindmah of the Imāms (peace be upon them) and all true creeds is reason, human disposition, and revolution from A..āh

On this basis no social economical, or political factor has had or has an effect even in the appearance of belief in the appearance of Mahdil the Sav or (may Allāh hasten his return). The beginning and source of it is the narrations of the prophets, the celestial books, and the guidance, narrations, and words of the person of the Final Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). Imam Amir al-M. 'minin (peace be upon him), and the remaining Imams (peace be upon them)

Though there have been false claims regarding being the Mahdi based on seeking rank and political aims, by analysis and recognition the origina source of the appearance of these claims and the appearance of false claims we reach the reality that an ancontested reality has been involved around which these claims and distortions have come about and been made tools by individuals.

In the same way, regarding belief in Allah, revelation, and prophecy itself we see that some realities exist and there is a ground for its acceptance in people's harts, and opportunistic individuals, abusing this fact, have throughout history made claims of Godhead or prophecy.

And the issue of the Mahd. (may Al.ah hasten his return) as well since it was raised by the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) himse f and the companions have heard and related it from him—is a reality which has been accepted by all

For this reason it has been abused and individuals have made it means for differing objectives, most of which have been political.

If the issue of the Mahdi (may Altāh hasten his return) did not have reality, individuals would not have resorted to such distortion with regard to it. Thus, these abuses themselves confirm the fact that this issue has been accepted as a reality by al.

It is possible for events to guide human ty to realities, just as Ibrāhim (peace be upon him), the great monotheist, taught recognition of Allāh to people by use of events

When night set, that personage saw a star. In the beginning, he said, "This is my Lord." But when the star set he said,

لاَ أُخِّبُ الأَفِلِينَ

"I love not those that set, "So

By making use of the incident of the rising and setting of the star. Ibrahim (peace be upon him) taught people that the star cannot be God.

After that, the moon also rises and sets, and from this theigent as well he cone ades that the moon, too, cannot be God

Then, the sun rises and sets and, in the same way, he reaches the same conclusion about it.

In this way he socks aversion to B, polythelstic beliefs and guides the people to the Creator of all the world's inhabitants

Thus, events can lead people to real ties, but credal real ties cannot be considered the effects of events

Yes, it can be said that the passage of time caused a strengthening of people's benef in the family of 'Ali (peace be upon him) and deepening of Sh 'a thought in their hearts. But if someone says that Shiaism and the occu tation of the Imam (peace be upon him) were originated and completed by the passage of time, this is faise, since many proofs, who have been pointed out in the previous discussions, belie this view

No one can say that the trad tions of the Imams (peace he upon them), all of which they have related from the tongue of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), are a forged, since all off them, in addition to consecutive narration, have external contexts with themselves. In reality, they are like the news of the martyrdom of 'Amimar, when the Messenger of A ah (peace be upon him and his family) said, تقتُلُك المنة الْباغِيةُ."

The oppressive party will kill you. "

No one said that after 'Ammar was martyred by Mu awiyah and his army this tradition was forged, i.e. the tradition is an effect of that event. This is because he ore this event, the companions would relate this studition. The issue of the Imâmah of he imâms (peace he upon them) is the same way, regarding which it has been related from three of the ... hat is 'Ali and Imâm Hasan and Imâm Hasayn, that the Prophet (peace he upon him and his family) said,

"The number of Imitins is twelve, the last of whom shares my name." And it transpired exactly in this way in the external world. In this situation, none can claum that these tracitions are spurious and were forged after the occurrence of these events.

"Mahdi" in a Special Meaning and Technical Usage

Question.

Is "Mahdi" a specific label and title referring to a particular person with particular qualities and distinctions or a general concept and title applied to everyone Allah has guided? In other words, is the Mahdi and belief in Mahdawiyyat related to person or a category?

Answer

The concept of the word "Mahdi" is a general concept that a permissible to use, according to the language and common usage, for anyone that Allah has guided. With this concept, all of the prophets and legatees (awsiyā') are "Mahdi" (guided) and using this word for the person of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). Amir al-Millimnin, Imām Hasan, Imām Husayn, and the remaining Imāms (peace be upon them) is permissible since all of them were "Mahdi" and guided. Rather using this word to refer to other individuals were raised and attained guidance in the school of those personages is permissible. For example, the companions of Imam Husayo (peace be upon him) were all guided. Similarly, using the word for eminent Shi'a, or rather all Shi's or all who have been guided to the truth and are on guidance is permissible. However, everyone knows that the purport of "Mahdi" which the Messenger (peace be upon him and his family) said was a part cular label and title reserved for a specific and unusually mighty person about whose appearance the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) has given tidings and has invited his Ahi ai-Balt (peace be upon them) and all the Musimus to be among those awaring his appearance. So no of these prophetic raditions are:

المهدي مِنْ وَلَدِي.

"The Mahdi is from my descendants "M

ٱلْمَهَّدِي مِنْ عَثْرِتِي مِنْ وُلُد فَاطِمَةً

The Mahdi is from my family from the aescendants of Fatimah 59

الْمَهْدِي مِنْ وُلْدِكْ.

The Mandi is from our descendants. 60

"Mahd." in the meaning of "guided", as per the various meanings of "guidence", such as 'showing the way." "conveying to the desired object," and other instances is also used for non humans, and the verse

"He said, Our Lord is the One Gave every existent what is necessary for its creation then guided '61' indicates this fact.

In spite of all this, it appears that by studying the instances in which this word has been used, the conclusion is reached that "guidance" is generally used for individuals in whom Allah's guidance has had an effect

On this basis, it must be said.

That is, one who has received Allah's guidance is "Mahdi" in other words, guidance in the meaning of "showing the path" has been directed at him and though the special attention and tawfiq of Allah, it has born fruit in him, for which the loftiest examples are the prophets and Imams (peace be upon them,

According to remable traditions, "Mahdi" is the title of the same promised personage of the end of time whose genealogy and quahties have even been pointed to in reliable traditions, which cannot be applied to anyone except the twelfth Imam, the son of Imam Hasan al-'Askari (peace be upon him). The intle "Mandi" in the meaning of the receiver of A tah's guidance, reviver of Islam, one who will fin the world with equity and justice, and possessor of distinguished qualities, was first used with regard to that personage and this took place in the time of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) himself through his person, and the Mahdi in the sense of savior and redeemer—and other synonymous words like this from Allah are solely his titles.

Controversy Regarding the Date of Birth of Imam Mandi (may Allah hasten his return)

Question

How can the controversy about the cate of both of Imam Mandi (may Allah hasten his return), which some say corresponds to the number of the letters of the word of "mar," light) - 256 while according to some traditions, it took place in the year 255 A II, bo explained. In what year did the occultation of that personage take place?

Answer

Dispute about such matters does not harm the basic topic or cause an enigma.

Such disagreement exists with regard to the date of birth of most historical personalities, in fact in many cases their dates of birth and death are unknown.

The disagreement about the date of birth of Imam Sahib a. 'Amr (may Al.ah hasten his return) is less than the disagreement existing about the date of birth of some of the Imams and the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) himse f

The reliable opinion is 255 A.H., which had ibn Shadhan al-Nayshāpuri, who is one of the major traditionists and a contemporary of Imam Hasan al. Askari (peace be upon him) - has related, and his intermediary is a person like Muhammad ibn 'Ali ibn Hamza ibn Husayn ibn 'Uhaydullah ibn 'Abbas bn 'Ali ibn Abi Tālib (peace be upon him).

As for the occultation of Imam Sainb al-'Amr (may Allah hasten his rotum)

From the very time of birth the public did not have permission to visit him in the assai manner, and his venerable father would only grant special companions and Shi'a the felicity of visiting his peertess son and in the file of the father (Al.āh's remaining word). The commencement of the minor occuration, which was also the beginning of that personage's Indimah, took place on the day of martyrdom of Imam IJasan al-'Askari (peace be upon him), that is in the year 260 A.H

A point which must be mentioned here is that the coming up of the issue of the occultation of the limiting was not unexpected for the Shi's and believers in limitinah when it occurred, since it had been referred to before this time in many traditions, and the people know that limiting has also also also also have to occultations a short occultation cannot "singhea" and "quera" and a long occultation called "kabra" and "tuta"

The detailed report of that has been ment oned completely in the books and usul (books of principles, of the Shi'a which were written before the birth of Imam San b a Zaman (may Allan hasten his return)

Consensus of the Shi'a Regarding the Imāmuh of Imām Sahib al-Amr (may Allāh hasten his return) after the Demise of Imām Ḥasan al-'Askarī (peace be upon him)

Question:

According to what Nawbakhti has written the books of Shi'a sects, the Shi'a after Imam Hasan al-'Askari (peace be upon h.m., spl.) up into fourteen sects. To what extent is this statement correct and until what time were these sects extant?

Answer

As has passed, Nawbakhti writes

The Shi'a after the demise of Imam Hasan a. 'Askari (peace be apon him) were divided into fourteen sects. However, it appears that there has been some exaggeration in this view, since he and the remaining writers of books perfaming to sects have collected all the views that have been forwarded—even if held by only one person who himself did not remain firm in that opinion until the end. It may very we'll be that they have ment oned "see,s" about which using the word "seet" or "group" would not be correct.

this is because the number of their believers, if they had more than one individual, is not known. It does not appear that they exceeded a few people. Or it is not known that what time and to what extending were firm in their opinion thus they should not be pounted as sects, or else the number of sects would reach the hundreds or thousands.

Shaykh MufiJ and Shaykh Lust, may A an have mercy on them, have also forwarded this same view Shaykh Mufid in the second volume of At Fusal at-Mukhtara, narrating from a -Nawhakhti, meet.ons the names of these sects and says. None of these sects except the Shi's exist in our time. 372 A H.

Thus, it becomes known that these sects have not existed to an extent that they be worthy of being pointed out at all

Of course, if an opinion is attributed to them, even if it has no clear follower. It is necessary to research it, as Sheykh Mufid and Sheykh [asi have performed, and they have proven the falsity of the views of all of these sects except the Twelver Sh.'a.

In sum mary, books of sects and schools of hought have been they wed in carclessness and exaggeration in counting groups and sects.

Thus such material in books cannot be relied upon - except in case of sects that exists even today or whose existence as a group is affirmed by rul able histories and references is the abundance the titles of the Imam of the Age because of the profusion of his personal, spiritual, and physical characteristics, or is it on account of the vastness of his reformative actions?

Question.

Answer

It is understood from the traditions that the biessed names of the tweafth Imām (may Ailāh hasten his return) are Qā im (The Riser), Mahdī (The Guided), Ghā',b (The Absent), and Ho, at The Proof). In addition, various traditions mention him with titles such as Hujjatu,āh (The Proof of Allāh). Khalitatu,āh (Ca, ph of Allāh) and al-Qā'im (The Riser). The reason for the abundance of his titles is the same two factors mentioned above. Of course, out of these titles, some are more well known than others.

It is possible that conditions in a particular time cause people to pay greater attention to one of these titles or qualities or that a particular aspect of the issue be discussed more and consequently speakers, writers, and poets give more attention to that title or aspect. This is similar to the "most beautiful names" (at-asmā al-hasna) of Allah, in which individual circumstances or prevating conditions cause people to give more attention to one of those names and call Him by it, such as "Al-Shāfi" (The Healer), "Al-Salām" (The Security), "Al-Hāfiz" (The Protector), or "Al-Rāziq" (The Sustainer). And this is not to mean that the remaining "most beautiful names" to not have a reason for being attributed to Allāh.

Thus, each of the names and titles of the imam of the Time, may Al ah nasten his return) refer to one of his qualities or actions, and most of them have been mentioned in traditions that broach the actual issue of the twe. The Imam and his reappearance. That is, that personage was well known by these names and titles years before he himself or his father were even born.

Regarding the fact that the tweifth Imam is the same as the Mahdi and the Mahdi is no different from the tweifth Imam, eminent Sunn, scholars agree with the Shi's For this very reason individuals like Abu Dawad author of the book Sunan (prophetic character) - have narrated traditions of the twelve Imams, and among his titles, his being promised by the prophets and his personal excellences and genealogy are referred to.

√(23) The title "Al-Qā'ım" (The Riser) The title "Al-Qā'um" (The Ri

Question:

As everyone knows, one of the titles of the Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return) is "Al-Qa'im" (The Riser). A tradition has been related regarding the reason for his being given this title that requires contemplation, since it apparently indicates that this title was given because that personage will reappear after death. Yet we have over approximately one thousand traditions regarding that personage, his occultation, and long life, in view of which that tradition cannot be relied upon. However, if some clarifications about his narrators, text, and meaning can be given, it would be useful.

Answer

The great scholar Shaykh al-Ţūsī narrates an unremable tradition that apparently indicates that the "Qā'im" was given this title because he will arise after death. Shaykh al-Tūsī has provided a bit of explanation about this tradition, but before we enter this topic, we consider it necessary to mention the basics of Imāmah in Shīa.sm.

which verses of the Noble Qur'an, traditions, and rational proofs affirm. These principles are as follows

- I Imamah is a Divine coverant, and individuals—who are worthy of bearing the are specified and appointed by Aliah, and this Divine selection and appointment is announced to the people by the Prophet peace be upon him and his family).
- 2. The most important conditions of the Imam are sinlessness and being more knowledgeable than all other people, such that all be in need of his knowledge guidance, and direct on, which he be free of need of a last has been refered about Khalil ibn Ahmad that he said about the Imamoh of Amir a.-Mu'minin (peace be upon him):

إِخْتِيَاحُ ٱلْكُلِّ إِيَّهِ وَٱسْتَفَاؤُهُ عَنِ ٱلْكُلِّ دَلِينٍ عَنَى أَنَّهُ إِمَامُ ٱلْكُلِّ

The appendence of all others on him and his independence from all others are proof that he is the India of all ...

- 3 he earth w... never he without a D vine Proof and Imam, and whoever dies without having recognized the Imam of his time area the death of ignorance.
- 4 The Imams, as per the text of mutuwattr traditions from the Prophe (peace be upon him and his family), are two ve personages
- 5 They are two ve and all are from the Ah. al-Bait (peace be upon them) of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), and according to the meaning of the mutawātir traditions of Thaqalayn (The Two Weig ty Things), they are equals of the Qur'an and shall never part from the Qur'an
- 6 The Imams possess all of the religious and administrative stations except prophethood, which was sealed with the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him and his family). And as Imām 'Alī (peace be upon him) has said in Nahi al-Balagha, they are الله من الله or the Divine Guardians<sup>63</sup> over the creation, and on the basis of another tradition, they are the ship of salvation.

"None shall enter Paradise except one who recognizes them and whom they recognize, and none shall enter Hell except one who dentes them they are the ships of sulvation and refuge of the ununat from deviation and discord."

7 The name, qualities, and order of the lmamon of the Imams (peace be upon them) was specified by the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family), and in addition, each Imam specified the following Imam

These are among the important foundations of benefin the principle of Imamah, and for every Muslim who be eves in the unseen world and in A sh, messengership, and the messengership of the Sea, of the Prophets (peace be upon him and his family), the criterion of truth of these fundamentals is a rational proof Qur'antiverse, or definite and mulawater tradition. And most of these fundamentals can be proven by an three means

The fact that Indinuth is a Divine covenant and Allah specifies it has been argued by rational and Qur'anic proofs and the consecutively-narrated sunnat. 'Allamah Hill, has established one thousand proofs of this issue in Alfain, and in fact this issue has its roots in the unity of Allah, and like (7) the principle of Divine Unity, it comprises unity of rulership and authority over creation,

'His is the command and rice, He is the King and the Ruler and the One in authority. He is the one who is cognizant of the interests of His servants. Commanding and Forhiading is for none save Him.

In the issue of the necessity of sinlessness and being the most knowledgeable as well, abundant rational, Qur'anic, and narrational prouts exist, among which is this verse

أَهُمَ يَهْدِي إِلَى ٱلْحَقِّ أَحَقُّ أَنَّ يَتَبِعَ أَمَّنَّ لَا يَهْدِي إِلاَّ أَنَّ يُهُدَى

Then is one who guides to the truth more worthy to be followed or one who does not find guidance except by being guided? ***

The ate 'Anamah has also established one housand proofs about the issue of the necessity of sinlessness.

Regarding the principle that the earth shall not remain without a Proof and Imam, in addit on to verses such as.

وَلِكُلُّ قُوْمٍ هَادٍ

"And every people has a guide "ho

ولقُدُ وَصَّلْنَا لَهُمْ ٱلْقُوْلَ

<sup>61</sup> Sprah Vilnis (10), Verse 35

يَوْمٌ لَدُعُو كُلُّ أَلَاسِ بِإِمَامِهِمُ

The day when We will call every people with their teader ""

Mutawattr traditions are also found, among which is the well-known tradition of Kumail ibn Ziyad from Amir al-Mu'minto (peace be upon him) which has been mentioned in Nahj al-Balagha and all other books of Zaydi and I'welver Shi'a and even in the reliable books of the Sunnis, such as Tadhkirat ul-Huffaz. From this it is known that all are agreed that the earth will never be empty of a Proof, of course, it makes no difference whether the Proof is apparent or hidden.

And in Sawa'tg and other books of the Sunnis, a discourse has been related from Imam Zain a.-'Abidin (peace be upon h.m) in which it has been explicitly mentioned that the world is not without an Imam from the Ahl al-Bait (peace be upon them)

These principles have even been explicated in the supplications of the Imams from Ahl a.-Batt (peace be upon thom). In this regard, we will suffice with only a portion of the supplication of the day of Arafan from Imam Zain al-'Abidin (peace be upon him). That personage says.

69 Sürah Isrā' (17), Verse 71

مُعْصِيَّةً وَ أَمَرَّتُ بَامْتِنَالِ أَوَامِرِهِ وِ النَّتِهَاءِ عِلْسَادَ نَهْيَسَهِ وِ أَنْ لَاَ يَتَقَدَّمُهُ مُتَقَدِّمُوْ لَاَ يَتَأَخُّرَ عَنْهُ مُتَاخِرٌ فِسَهُو عِصْمَاةُ اللائِديسِ و كَهْفُ الْمُؤَمِّدِينِ وَ عُرُوَةً الْمُتَمَسِّكِينِ وَ بِهَاءُ الْعَالَمِينَ

"Atlan" You have supported your religion in every age with an Imam whom You established as a standard for Your servants and a heacon in Your lands, after You tinked his covenant with Yours and made him the means of Your pleasure made obligatory his obedience and cautioned against his disobedience communited to execute his commands and shan what he forbids and that none should precede him nor stay back from him. Thus he is the guard of those seeking refuge and the recourse of the behavers, handle of those who grasp (guidance, and the glory of the inhabitants of the universe."

Anyone who looks carefully at this portion of the supplication will both come to recognize the Shi'a viewpoint regarding the principle of Indinate and will also understand that this stat on and these affairs were established for the Imam from the beginning and no one has added anything to them.

As for the issue that 'Whoever dies without recognizing the Imâm of his time dies the death of ignorance." this is also a principle which reliable traditions have conveyed explicitly. The reliable traditions of Thaquiain (the two weighty things), Suffina (the ship of salvation), and Amân (safety) all indicate this point.

And it has been explicitly mentioned in mulawater traditions that the Imams are twelve personages, all of whom are from the Ahi al-

Bail of the Prophet, and eleven of them are from the progeny of All and Fat mah peace be upon them), the first of them being Amir at Ma'minin (peace be upon him), and after him Imam Hasan at Mujtaba (peace be upon him), followed by the Prince of Martyrs Imam Hasayn (peace be upon him), and at or him nine people from his progeny, of whom the ninth who is the two fits Imam is Imam Mahdi (may Alian hasten his return)

Thus, since these principles have been estab shed with firm proofs, eminent scholars such as Shayan al-Tus, Shayah a -Mufid, Ibn Babawayh, 'Allamah Ma, Is (Allah's mercy upon themal) have refuted by relying on these principles the staten entol anyone who, previous to their time or subsequent to it, has said something to the contrary or given after ion to a rare and enaccepted tradition. This is because the buttress of the proofs of hese principles is reliable to an extent that i can even be claimed has after the principle of D vine unity and prophecy, no principle is so reliable.

In view of all this no Shi'a scholar has he dithe he rising of the Qa'im (may Allan hasten his retain) who occur after its death. And if anyone has brought up baseless possible thes, taking into account the points mentioned and since they are completely against objective realities, they must not be given any attention is not they have no scientific value.

After this preface and explanation of this point, the life and ong occultation of the Imam has been established on the basis of these principles. There remains no room for this tradit in that says he Qa'am (may Allah hasten his return) will rise after death is nee his notion would result in the severing of the thread of Imamah the earth is remaining without the existence of a sintess Imam and the refutation of many traditions which and cate the life and ong occultation of that personage.

As de from all of these objections, the above-mentioned traction's chain of narrators is not reliable, and none of the Ulama' or Fugaha' (tarists has relied on such traditions in even a single secondary assee. This is because one of the narrators is Musa ibn Sa dan al Hannal, whom scholars of right (the science of the study of narrators) have described as weak and whose narration they consider unreliable. He has narrated this tradition from 'Abdullah bit Qas in whom they have used "The Ever-Lying Hero." He in turn narrates roin Abu Sa id al-Khurasani, and if we don't consider has existence unknown according to reference books of right, then his position—in erms of being truthau or Jishonest—is unclear

Now, contemplate, how can this radition—whose narrator is the champion of labrication—be reflect upon in opposition to those firm fundamentals and hundreds of reliable traditions?

As for the reason for employing the title "Al-Qa'irb" for the limit of the Age (may Anal hasten his return):

'Al-Qa' m' means 'the one who rises.' The Imam shall rise against positical conditions and religious and social deviations and '1, the word with justice and equity after it had become fixed with in ustice and oppress on. Additionally, the issue of rising with the sword and armed striggle is also understood from that title.

Nevertheless since 'rising' has weak and strong degrees, it can be understood from radiions that all of the limans were 'Qā un bi 'Tamr' (upto ders of the affair), and it is proper and befitting to employ this title for all of them, in accordance with the positions they had But since the rising of Imam Mahdi (may Alfah hasten has return) is a world uprising that subsumes all social, individual, political, and economical conditions of humanity and brings to fruit on A tāh's promises to His prophets and the prophets' prophecies to their people, this title is used without qualification for that personage. Thus, anytime they say "al-Qā m" and their is not context that another one of the Imams is intended, Imam Mahdi (may Alah hasten his return) is understood from that

In a tradition that Shaykh Sadūq narrates in the book Kamāt al Din from Imām Muhammad at-Taqi (peace he upon hum), the ninth Imām, it has come.

رنَّ الإمَّام بعُدي أَيِّس عَنِّي. .

"The Imam after me is my son 'All - Imam All al-Nagi (peace be upon him, whose command is my command whose speech is my speech and obedience to whom is obedience to me. And the Imamah after him has been placed in his son flavan - Imam rfasan al-Askar! (peace be upon him, His command is his father s rommand, his word is his father's word and shearing to him is obedience to his father.

The narrator says, After that the Imain felt vilent

The Imam at first wept to a great extent and then said After Hasan, his son is the Establisher of Truth, the Awa test القائم بالحق المالية ال

I said, O son of the Messenger, why has that personage been named 'Qu im' (The Riser)?

The Imam replied, herause after his name and remembrance is forgotten and most of the believers in his Imamah turn hack from their creed, he shall rise

I said Why has he been named 'Muntazar' (The Awaited)?

He replied, because he has an occultation with a very lung duration, such true believers will want for his advent and

Allamah Ma, si has said, the meaning of "death" that has come in that weak tradition is has that personage will arise after his name and memory has been forgotten

That is the "Qa" r 'm ist be 'one whom A lab has guided," but it is not necessary that 'one whom A, ab has guided" must always be 'Qa" m". However, the actions, reforms, movement uprising, and stand that will take place by the Maidt may Alab hasten his return), such as establishment of a world government, are dependent on rising and the becoming actualized of the title "Qa'im"

These titles are not classified into primary and secondary, and all have been heard from the blessed tongues of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) and pure Imams (peace be upon them), nor do they have "old" and "new " each has its own particular concept and each has been used with altention to a particular aspect in texts, sometimes all of these titles are mentioned, sometimes one, and another time one title is mentioned, before another.

In any case, application of these tities is on the basis of essent all and actualized titles, all of which that personage possesses

₹24 Two Types of Occultation

Question.

According to the content of existing irraditions, the occultation of the Imam of the Age (may Allah haster his return) has occurred in two forms. During the first occultation, communication with him was possible through his representatives and agents, but with the ending of this period, and the beginning of the second occultation, which is the complete occultation, the period of the responsibility of the agents and particular representatives also ended

The question is whether referring to these two occultation as the "minor" (هفری) and "major" (هفری) was prova ent from the beginning or whether it became prevalent in later times, like the Safawi period.

Answer:

Discussion regarding sales like this should not be a verbal discussion. Whether a person calls the first occultation, which was shorter, the minor occultation (کسیرک) or the shorter occultation (قمسرک), or the second occultation, which has a long duration, the ma or occultation (طون) or the longer occultation (طون) or refers to them by any other word, the fact and reality of the matter is not changed in any case, these two occultations have occurred

The issue is that principle of the occultation having two forms was explicitly stated in the usu, tearly hadrib collections, and other books of had hieven before is occurrence. Nu'man, and others who lived before the termination of the minor occultation have no rated it and this fact is proof that the two forms it occultation were put forth.

During the period of the minor occultation, though the position of the Shi's was sens, we, no one can claim that all these traditions related from the Imams (peace be upon them) in books are the Gha, but of a Fad by Shadian and Na'man and Kamat al-Din of Sadaq are a fa sifed and were written after the occurrence of the occur at on

We see that the Shi'a of the various cities and regions would refer to the nawwar (representatives), they all not do such for no reason. Signs and evidences were definitely present hat indicated not they were incontact with the Imam. Otherwise it is impossible that individuals ke 'All on Banawayh, with that intellectual position and eminence of thought, would purs a contact with the Imam (peace be upon him) through the nawwar without their link being as elear for him as day tent. This event is self indicates that they had clear evidence of the right of the representatives.

The other issue is that though Abū Ja'far al-'Amrawi - 'Uthman be Sa'id—and the remaining representatives were a means of Sh.'a unity and their agency was completely accepted in all Shi'a circles and regions, especially a city like Qum, this unity was because of belief in the Imāmah of the twel-th Imām—This issue brought about the spiritual influence of the representatives, not that they became a cause of Shi'a unity without taking in view the issue of Imamah

The unity and consensus of the Sni'a about believing in the Imamah of the twe.fth Imam was the cause of their amity in following the Imam's (peace be upon them, representatives.

Just as today be, tof in the Imāmah of that personage is a cause of the spiritual influence in believers' hearts of the Ulama' and Fuqahā' (scholars and jurists) as general representatives of that personage.

During the minor occultation, specification of the representatives took place directly by the person of the Imam peace be upon him, and the fact that we see eminent scholars lowering heir heads in submission before the representatives a proof that this selection was by the person of the Imam (peace be upon him), in the has a of the representatives' worthiness. And the submission of all crasses and political and scholarly personal lies is proof that only hall leaders up during the period of the minor occultation was with the person of the Imam (peace be upon him).

It was as a result of the existence of persuasive evidence and proofs that scholarly men of the Shina and personalities are Abu Sahl al Nawbakhti and Ibn Matil, and Hasan ibn Janahasib; and other eminent Shina believed in the righ sousness of the representatives.

Similarly, after the demise of the fourth representative—'Ali ibn Muhammad al-Samarri - also the issue that the period of occultation and the particular representation has ended was accepted by all. And if any claimed to be a representative, they repudiated him on the basis of this very principle, and in passing it can be said that one of the important wisdoms of the shorter occultation was to make the Shi'a familiar with the issue of occultation and preparing the ground.

for the period of the long occultation, so the Shi's can continue his rife during a long period without the apparent presence of the imain and successfully complete this major Divine test.

The Miraculous Birth of the Imam of the Age (may Allah hasten his return)

Question.

Miracles and supernatural events are related with regard to the birth of the twe.fth Imam To what extent are these miracles reliable and how can they be proven? And why have some historians not related them?

Answer

- 1 Historians have written and recorded the actua, b.rth of Imam Mahdi the Twelfth Imam, son of Imam al-'Askari (peace be upon him), like a., other historical events.
- 2. Regarding some of the miracles that occurred during that personage's birth or that of all other prophets and trustees laws ya', if prevalent historical sources do not provide anything, this is considered a defect of the sources mentioned, since the same historians in many instances have pointed to some historical aspects which were not so important. This lack of attention by a writer of history to some aspects of an issue sometimes originates from creedal prejudice. But this action, whatever it's proof may be, does not harm the relations of other people's statements that took place based on reliable sources.

The 1s my of the prophets is akunden of miracles, and the birth and growth of most prophets was not norma. For example, the creation of Adam, birth of Itrahim (peace be upon him), birth of Ishaq and Masa and Yanya and 'Isa and his speaking from the grante are all among abnormal events

All of these are a count of historical events, though such-andsuch historian may not have related them. The details of the birth of the imam of he Age may Allan lasten his return), which is among the uncontestable it storical levents, are similar it is not being narrated by historians who were either biased or intended to be brief or intended other Jungs does not harm the issue itself.

That which the 5t is aftribute to the linking is similar to the issues jut have been said about Ibrahi n, Ishaq, Isma*. Musa, 'Isa, harya, and so on all if which, of acurse, also have a reliable chain of narration.

The events related to the birth of the Twe fill Imain are more reliable, from the point of view of chain of narration and source, than most his orical events that one seek

Philosophy of the Delay of Reappearance with the Presence of Conditions

Question.

Throughout history, we sometimes come across conditions and opportunities in which it is assumed the requisites for reappearance are present, for example, the people's receptiveness to religion, self-sacrifice in the path of Islam, giving their vex, and martyrdom for it was to such an extent or with such fervor and commission that it appears that rather than 313 people, thousands of people are ready to sacrifice their lives under the command of the linam (peace be upon him). With the existence of these conditions, what is the secret of the delay of the reappearance?

Answer

Regarding the presence of the conditions for the reappearance of the Imam of the Age (may Allāh hasten his return):

First, no one can claim to know with certainty, that is, say that a the conditions are fulfilled, since this claim itself requires knowledge of a., the conditions, since it is possible that the raditions have not comprised an exposition of all of the conditions.

Second, assuming that the conditions are imited to those instances that are come in the traditions, as Shaykh al-Şaduq has said, in reality one can st. not be sure that those particular 313 companions and the remaining conditions are present.

This is because if all of the conditions and circumstances apparently indicate the presence of the requisites of reappearance, without denying, for example, the existence of pure individuals who can be counted among the 313 companions of the linkin (peace be upon him), we also cannot claim that all of the individuals are like Saiman, Abu Duar Migdad, Rashid Hijri, and the people of Karbala'

In the present situation, with all the claims that are put forward nour society for returning to and aspiring at Islam, which are certainly a matter of price, we stin see that many bring the Divino laws under question in a large number of political economical, and social issues. This is to such an extent that they regard some retigings commandments that are not exclusive to a particular time of place as being restricted to the Prophet's (peace be upon him and his family) time and on this pretext free themselves from responsibility. With the existence of such individuals and events, how can we say that the conditions for reappearance are ready, let alone asking about the reason for it delay?

On this bas s, in this issue it is appropriate for us to submit to the command and will of Alläh, the All Knowing, and not forgo the ment of waiting for the reappearance. And as was indicated in the tradition of 'Al. ibn Mahziyar, we should attribute the concealment of the Imam (peace be upon him) to our own actions and always keep the memory of that personage alive in our hears and try to bring about the requisites of his appearance ever more by reforming our own actions.

The Length of the Occultation and Difficult and Formidable Trials

Question.

According to what is well known, during the occuration of Imam Matidi (may Allah hasten his return), which will be very lengthy, difficult trials will occur such that a person will be a believer in the morning but a disbeliever in the evening. Are these types of trials in the time near the reappearance or will such trials occur throughout the period of occultation?

Answer

According to Islamic principles, the world is a place of tests and trials and people are in a state of being tried during everything that happens to them. During youth and old age, whether wealthy or in need, in health and inness, when in power, when in leadership, they are always in a state of trial, it makes no difference whether the limâm (peace be upon him) is present or in occulitation.

The Qur'an says in this regard.

أَحْسِبَ ٱلنَّاسِ أَنْ يُقُرِّكُوا أَنْ يَقُولُوا أَمَّتُ وَهُمْ لَا يُقْدُونَ

'Have the people presumed they would be released upon saying, We betieve without being tested?"

As we know during the time of the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) himself, while all of the programs and incidents were a test, sometimes severe this s would occur, in which none but a few were able to fulfill their bligation. For example, in battle, aside from individuals like 'All ibn Abi fit is (peace be upon him) and Aby Du and and a few others, none were able to stand firm in jthad and defense of Islam and the Prophet. Thus is because during severe triais only a similed number of people have the ability to stand from many an individual would flee out f fear. It has been related that in on the pattles 'Uthman fled from the battlefield and returned after three days. Or after the Prophet's (peace he upon him and his family, domise, such a severe trial came to pass that not more than three or seven people were able to successfully perform their duty and remain firm on the line that the Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) had specified. Afterwards as well, such trials con inted and shall continue, so that, in the words of the Our'an

لِيميرُ ٱلْحبيثُ من ٱلطَّيْبِ

so that Aitan separates the impure from the pure 🤲

These trials have wisdom and many benefits, among which is that the disposition of the people of the world and society become ready for has dignified reappearance in which the resolute and steadfast believers will be separated from the remaining people

Preserving one's faith during the period of the lmām's (peace be upon him) occultation is possible by enduring very severe difficulties. Without doubt, millions of people leave this school of trials with pride and heads held high that is through patience and forbearance and perseverance in difficulties, they succeed a preserving their religion, faith, and honor

According to the content of some traditions, during this period protecting one a religion will become more difficult than holding fire in the palm of one's hand, and oppression, injustice, corruption and perversion will become prevalent Values will be regarded as being against values, and things opposed to values will be regarded as values. Sins will be considered a matter of pride and accomplishment. One's friends will encourage and induce frim o sin and reproach him for not cooperating with oppressors, sinners, and corrupt people.

Women will enter into work exclusive to men. Many wars and natural afflictions will come about. In a tradition of Jubir ibn Abdu läh al-Ansäri regarding the commentary of the verse

'(O you who believe!) Ohey Aliah and they the Messenger and those in authority amongst you (the legatees of the Messenger). "

It has come that the Noble Messenger (peace be upon him and his family) gives news about his khulafā' and successors from imām 'A.. blessed bands of Imám al Mahdi (may Allāh hasten bis return), and says, inter ulta:

'He is the one who will be concealed from his Shi'a and friends such a concealment that none shall remain firm in belief in his lindmah except one whose heart Atlâh has tested for faith, "75

And Am.r a.-Mu'minin has also informed about these difficulties and trib dations in Natiqual-Balagha. In one instance, he says,

مَا أَطُولَ هَلَا ٱلعناءَ وَٱبْعَدَ هَذَا ٱلرَّجَاءِ

How length, is this adversity and how distant is this hope. The Library even been related, in another and tion, that Verily the Muster of this Affair has a such a conceatment that one who grips firmly to his reast in during it is like one who picks thereis with his hands.

Therefore, as can be understood from the traditions, the entire period of concea ment is a period of that and examination, of course, the types of those trials are different in the different times and places. The believer during this period must show perseverance in abiding by the commandments of reigion and struggling to elevate the word of Islām and honor of the Muslims and to repel the influence and cultural and political domination of foreigners. He must be in combat and phad with all negative and unhelpful circumstances and conditions and be hopeful of the victory of Islām and the Mushims and the succor of Allāh. He must not lose hold of himself in face of the power and strength of the disbelievers or become inclined towards their improper behavior. And at the same time he must have certainty that the promises of Allāh and the Prophet of Allāh are true and that eventually Islām will be victorious and conquer the world, as a result of which justice and equity shall fill the world.

The Principle of Grace and the Imāmah of the Concealed Imām

Question:

Has the "principle of grace" been derived from the traditions and narrations of the Ahl al-Balt (peace be upon them) or has it ontered Shi's kalām (theo ogy) through the contact of the Shi's with the Mu'tazila? And what is the method of applying this principle with the existence of the concealed Imām?

Answer:

Since the Shi's have many proofs regarding the principle of Imâmah aside from the principle of grace, with the existence of those proofs, if the principle of grace is relied upon, it is for the purpose of supporting the proofs.

As for the contact of the Sh. a with the Mu'thzha, who are sometimes referred to as the adhyya (Equitists) as opposed to the Asha'tra, it should be known that though the Mu'tazila, a sect that splintered off from the Asha'tra and came into being after the Shi'a, were in agreement with the Shi a over some beliefs and theological issues this is not proof of their affecting the Shi'a school. Rather, it is notead proof of their being affected by Shi'a beliefs, since the Asha' ra are a sect that came into being later on. Moreover, as was ment oned, an of the Shi a benefit are taken from reason, the Glorious Qur'an, and traditions of the Ahl al Bait (peace be upon them). The principle of grace is also from the Shi'a themselves and is derived from those very sources and origin.

It is in a tradition that Jabir asked the Prophet of Alfah (peace be upon him and his family) about the benefit of the existence of a concealed linam and he way of deriving benefit from his existence during the concealment. The Prophet (peace be upon him and his family) said in reply.

Ves, k, the One who sent me with the prophecy! Verily they benefit from how and seek light from the illumination of his whavah tauthority, during his concealment just as people benefit from the san though it has been covered by coulds."

To negate an entirety that the existence of a concealed imam is furf, grace is not proper for a rational person who is unaware of unseen affairs. After the lmāmah iself and his concealment are established, certainty of the existence of grace and presence of a benefit in his existence is necessary, since if the appointment of an Imām who has been contimanded to go into concealment does not entail grace. Is fully and vain, and Allāh is far above vain and futile actions. Therefore, the appointment of a concealed Lnām by Allāh certainly entails lutf (grace).

Granted, if we wish to establish both the necessity of appointment of an Imam and the Imamah of a concealed person through the principle of grace, the objection arises that it miles, first be known that the concealed Imam entails grace. Otherwise, without knowledge of its being grace, his Imamah will not be established. However, we establish the necessity of appointment of an Imam through the principle of grace and the Imamah of the concealed Imam through other firm proofs, and by joining these two proofs to the fact that Aliah does not do anything in vain, its established that the Imamah of the concealed Imam entaits grace. The statement of al-Mahaqqiq al-Tusi, who says, is based on the principle that the existence of the In air is grace absolutely, whother manifest or hidden. And this is a principle that has been established in accordance with the speech of Animal-Mu'min n (peace be upon him), who says

The Divine proofs and signs are protected by the existence of the Imam, whether he be present or concealed

It is worthy of mention that if the objection of the absence of grace with regard to the conceated imam be valid, it is also applicable to an Imam who is not conceated, yet who is not able to act freely in affairs. His Imamah will be without grace for the same reason that the Imamah of the conceated Imam is regarded as being without grace. However, this objection has not been made with regard to the manifest linkin who is not able to free y act in the affairs and tasks pertaining to linkinah. Similarly, it has not been made regarding a prophet who, due to circumstances, is unable to guide others or whose guidance is not effective, or a prophet whose mission was general, but opponents and adversaries prevented his message from reaching the entire public, and it has not been defined that his prophecy entails grace.

It is possible to establish a rational proof of the lmāmah of the conceated Imām (peace be upon him) with the exposition that appointment and specification of the Imām by Allāh is grace and grace is obligatory upon Allāh. Therefore, Allāh has appointed someone to lmāmah after Imām Hasan a.-'Askarl (peace be upon him), and that person will not be other than his son, since the incapacity and invalidity of the other claimants to lmāmah has been established and at present, no one has such a claim. Thus, other A ish has withheld grace to His servants during the period of concealment, which is opposed to Divine wisdom, or He has appointed an Imām out of grace, in which case the Imām is none other than the twelfth Imām.

The Issue of Bada' (Alteration in the Divine Will) and the Tradition of Abu Hamza

Question:

A tradition has been narrated by Abu Hamza Thomal, from Imam Al-Baqur (peace be upon him) according to which Amir al-Mulminin (peace be upon him) and that relief will come after the 70th year after Hijra, but because of the martyrdom of Imam Husayn (peace be upon him) the affair was delayed until the year 140 after Hijra. Then, because the Shila did not protect the secret, Allah once again delayed the affair such that He did not place any time for it in the knowledge of the Imams.

Please explain the commentary of this tradition along with the many other traditions that indicate that the promised relief shall occur after long periods and following great events and happenings. And doesn't the occurrence of budā, which is understood from this tradition, cause the presumption that something became known for Allāh—we seek refuge with Allāh—after it had been unknown? In any case, what is the correct explanation?

Answer

according to books of rijdi. Abu Hamza al Thumāli did not belong to the fourth general on of narrators, it is demise occurred in the year ,50 AH. Hasan ibn Mahbub, who according to the chain of narrators narrajed this tradition from Abu Hamza, is from the sixth generation, and passed away at the age of 75 years in the year 224 AH. Thus, Hasan ibn Mahbub was not more than one year old when Abu Hamza passed away. In such a case it is absolutely not passed for him in narrate from Abu Hamza, and without doubt another individual was an intermed ary be ween him and Abu trainza. However, since it is not known who that person is, we camo regard this radition as reliable, nurreover, a tradition parrated by only one person cannot be an authority in doctrinal principles, et alone when its crain of narrators is also unknown.

expire.) Indicate that the reappearance of Imam Maha, (may Allah hasten his return and the ust government of the righteous shall not come to pass that quickly and that one must await magnificent changes and grave events over very one periods before his reappearance how can a forged tradition with only one chain of narrators be relied upon in the face of all those traditions? Moreover many sermons and traditions have been related from Amir al-Mulim min (peace be upon him) in which both the length of the period during which one must await the reappearance and the great events and severe trials of he holievers have been reterred to. With the existence of this, how is a possible to say that a singly narrated, forged traditions that says that the Imam specified the time of reappearance as the year 70 A H is reliable.

In addition, alteration in Divine decrees is a concervable matter, though this does not mean that Allāh the Exalted is unaware of affairs in the beginning and then acquires know edge of them. Such a behef is invalid according to the Shi'a, since a. Shi'a beheve Allāh to be free and far removed from ignorance coming to know about something after its being concessed. Badā, in the conception which the Shi'a believe in, is a Qur'ānic and Islāmic principle, and an important part of the issues of theology and sim, any the issues of prophecy are based on it.

"That is because Allah does not change ony blessing He had granted unto a people until they change what is in themselves."

The badā' that the Shi'a be eve in, along with belief in the absolute knowledge and power of Anah, is a concept that is understood from such verses. For example, in hem to said that gratitude causes blessings from Allāb io increase. A lah delivers a pious person from hardships by virtue of piety (alquea) and sustains him from an unexpected source; He fulfilies needs through prayer, on account of repentance and faith. He distances people from punishment; and because of misuse of blessings, He removes them from people.

Of course, abundant traditions that have been narrated by Shi'a and Sunn's and similarly manifold stories which have been related in original is amic sources indicate this point. In fact, if badāl were not to exist, many religious concepts, such as prayer, reliance in Aliah, repentance, that ty, kindness towards relatives, gratitude, seeking forgiveness, admonition, granting tidings, and threatening, will be impossible to explain. Badāl means bettef in the effect of these affairs in the life of a person.

Whether we are able to explain badā in view of Allah's absorate knowledge and cognizance of all affairs or are unable to understand its secret and reality, in any case we must believe in the sale of badā in accordance with the content of manifold verses of Qur'an and mutawātir traditions

This is because sometimes, though all the factors and preaiminanes for the occurrence of something are present, other factors sind, been of their effect and as a result prevent that thing from occurring. In such a case, the existence of those factors, their continuation and the factors that samp them of their effect are all preserved in the l-mm al-Katāb by Divine decree in accordance with the order and arrangement He has specified. Those affairs are also inked to people's actions by choice, they occur through the will of Allāh and Has decree. That is, neither computation (jabr) is involved, nor delegation (tafwid); rather it is a resulty between the two:

لا جَبْر ولا تفويض بَلْ أَمْر بَيْنِ ٱلأَمْرِينِ.

Neither compulsion (jabr) nor delegation (tafield), but a matter between the two ideas. ***

As an example, A shit as decreed that fire should burn or that every created being should develop in its particular course, and if an abstract comes about, that thing will not exist. Of course, it should be kep, in mine that in that are partaining to matter, if an obstacle to their coming about allocks the causes of an event, this is not called hadb. Only in instances when things like charity kindness to fam. y, and prayer influence the occurrence or nonoccurrence of an affair such the humanity considers its existence or non-existence definite from the point of view of apparent causes and then the opposite occurs that is called badb. This is though apparently this instance does not have much difference from the previous instance except that the object of effacement and affirmation in the first issue was observable matters and able to be perceived by most or all people, but in the second asset it sinon observable matters, thus, most individuals are unable to perceive it. The second type indicates the existence and influence of the unseen world and the existence of Allah more than the first, though an affairs are from Him.

In summary, the concept of badā is the same concept that is well understood from this verse of Qur'an n which Aliah the Exalted refutes the false belief of the Jews

'And the Jews said, Allah's hand is fettered may their hands be fettered and they be cursed on account of what they said Rather His hands are outspread, He bestows howsnever He wishes. **9

Thus badā in its correct meaning is the negation of this erroneous belief of the fews, who say that Allan's hand is fettered from acting in affairs. In other words, hadā' means that Allāh's hands are extended and His absolute power is unlimited without this having any conflict with His absolute knowledge.

in other words, the reality of hadd, with is correct meaning such that it is compatible with Alläh's absolute knowledge, in accordance with H s freedom from all forms of ignorance, and opposed to the erroneous view of the Jews and all other deniers of the issue of hadd who view Alläh's power as limited, must be explained thus. According to Divine decree everything has particular effects, and things take place in accordance with those effects in conformance to Divine Will

In other words, it is a Divine decree that, for example, fire should burn, but the realization of this characteristic—its occurrence is pursuant to Divine Will. In addition, there are a number of unseen causes, such as remando on Alfah, charity, and prayer which are not common material affairs—all of which have a peculiar effect. In the stage of action, whichever of those material or non-material causes—apparent or unseen—is stronger will be effect ve in the occurrence of affairs, and its entailed result will come about. For example, in many cases, in spice of the existence of barriers, kindness to relatives, which has been decreed as a factor in engineering one's life overcomes all other factors and as a result a person slife is lengthened. Thus, it has come in a tradition,

Kindness to relatives lengthens the life and repels the difficulties of death. (4)

The seminary of the reality of badā is that causes and factors are not timited to material causes. Rather, in addition to material causes, there are also non-material causes in accordance with Divine decree.

On this basis, one must have faith both in unseen causes and in Divine Will and that.

كُلُّ يُومُ هُوَ فِي شَأْنَ

Every day He is in a state [of glory] "" and the continuance of H s ac ing n sustaining, curing, guiding, and so forth. W thout Allah's will, nothing can produce an effect, in Bihar a.-Anwar, Volume 77, Page 172

Sürah al-Rahman (55), Verse 29

though we are unable to fathern the details of these Divine matters and their connection to one another

It is possible that the meaning of 'effacement' in bada' is the effacement of these decrees by other decrees, such as the effacement of the effect of illness and being cured by medicine or prayer which takes place by the will of Allah. The decree and effect of the illness is also by Divine will, just as we see that in material and apparent causes and effects a particular factor prevented a person from falling into the ocean or from a high place or prevented the occurrence of an accident or collision. And sometimes this change is effaced or affirmed by the influence of unseen causes.

Perhaps the meaning is that decrees are not definite it is only through the will of Allan that these decrees are effaced or affirmed and without that no decree comes to fruition. And the reaning of وعثدة أم الكتاب

"And with Ilim is the Mother of the Book." is that all relations and decrees are in the "Mother of the Book," or that whatever takes place does not take place in contranction to it, and everything is in the "Mother of the Book."

In any case, badā' has an intentigable and logical meaning and it can't be said to mean the uncovering of a matter hidden from or unknown by Allāh. The purpose of explaining hadā in terms of each of the mentioned explanations is so that by understanding these realities people's attention to Allāh increase and so that they do not forget. Him in any circumstances or rely only on apparent and ordinary means in their affairs. And even when those means are present they should still consider themse was in need of Allāh's attention, and when those means are not present, they should not become hope ess. Allāh may very we bring about that matter through other means.

In short, unlike the Jows, he should not consider Aliāh's hands to be tied, and should believe in the great truth of Divine unity that:

فُلِ ٱللَّهُمُ مَالِكُ ٱلْمُنْكِ تُوْتِي ٱلْمُلْكِ مِنْ تَشَاءُ وَتُدْرِعُ ٱلْمُنْكِ مِمَّى تَشَاءُ وَتُدِرِ وَلَكُ عَلَى كُلُّ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ وَتُعِرِّ مِنْ تَشَاءُ وَلِمُدِلُ مِنْ تَشَاءُ بِيَدِكَ ٱلْحِيْرِ إِنَّكَ عَلَى كُلُّ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلّ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُّ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَمَى كُلُّ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُّ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَدِيرَ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ قَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ عَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ عَدِيرَ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ عَدِيرِ عَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُ عَلَيْكُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُكُ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ عَدِيرِ عَلَى كُلُ شَيءَ عَلَى كُلُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُولُكُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُ عَلَى كُلُولُ عَلَى كُلُ

As a matter of principle, without such a conviction, the development of humanity and their traveling the worlds of cognizance and true advancement and ascension to celestial positions is not possible. This is a reality that also has a basis in human nature, and even it he denies the issue of hadd with his tongue, he admits it with his conscience. Thus, in advances of danger, he supplicates to A at to repel them and takes recourse to His most beautiful names, like the Sustainer, the Healer, the Sufficient, the Protector all of which make sense through belief in badd.

And as Allah says in the Qur'an

"Say Do you think that if Allah's punishment come to you or the Hour (of Resurrection, come, that you will call upon other than Allah if you be truthful rather Him a one will you call."

Based on this importance which benef in budy has in worshipping Alläh and paying attention to Him, it has come in Shi'a traditions that

مَا غُيِدَ اللَّهُ بِشَيْءٍ مَثْلُ ٱلَّبُدَاء

'Atlah has not been worshipped by anything like belief in bada. "5

In summary, the assue of bada, no matter how it is explained does not contradict Alian's absolute knowledge. That is, just as He is "A..-Knowing." He is also "All-Power(al."

Two objections have been raised regarding the issue of hadd

First Objection

The first objection is from the be levers in predetermination, was say that when A lah has knowledge with respect to so nothing, it is impossible for His knowledge to be in disagreement with the thing that is known. Thus, the meaning of "Every day He is in a state of glory" is that every day and every his ant whatever Aliah's knowledge is associated to occurs. He creates and sustains and withholds. All actions are from Him, and nothing occurs that is outside the range of His knowledge. In fact, outside the limits of His knowledge, no action is possible. Similarly, it is obligatory for all events to which His knowledge is associated to take place, since for such actions not to take place entails His being ignorant, while The Divine Essence is pure of all forms of ignorance, defect, and fault. From this they raise the objection of Allah—as well as His creation—being compelled.

Of course, to slobject on is rejected by referring to one's reason, since every and vidual clearly and unambiguously sees himself as free in his actions. In reality, this is a form of objection with respect to govious matters, just like if someone doubts whether fire burns or makes bot

Another answer to this objection is that first of all, it doesn't disprove the issue of hodd even if it is valid, since if one believes in predetermina ion and denies free will, effacement and affirmation, which are among Aliah's actions, will in the end occur either by compeliation or free will, like all other actions

In other words, a person who be leves in predetorm nation cannot negate a facement and affirmation with this objection, he can only say hat the occurrence of effacement and affirmation, which are both D vide actions, is necessary and certain Second, the correct answer to the objection itself is that effacement and affirmation are both uncompelled Divine actions and I ke an other Divine actions take place through free with, and "Atlan's knowledge of their occurrence through free will" cannot negate their being uncompelled. Otherwise, it would entail knowledge influencing the thing that is known, which is impossible. Similarly, with regard to the actions of people, Alian has knowledge that they will occur through free will. Such knowledge does not negate the person's free will. It appears that the sage Muhaqqid allius, refers to this answer when he says (in the form of a poetical couplet) in answer to Khayyām.

To term the timeless Divine knowledge the cause of disabedience

Is, among those possessed of reason, out of extreme ignorance

That is, knowledge of the performance of actions by individuals possessing free will does not contradict the uncompelled nature of those actions.

Second Objection

How can the prophecies of the Prophets and Divine friends regarding unseen future events, especially the prophecies of the Noble Messenger (peace be upon him and his family) and the pure Imains (peace be upon hem) be explained and justified if badā is possible with regard to them? That is, how have they given information with certainty about so many future events without taking into account the possibility of badā with respect to those prophecies?

Answer: The possibility of occurrence of hadā and is occurrence in some instances does not mean that i occurs in all instances. Thus, the prophecies of those personages, whose knowledge was grounded in Allāh's knowledge and teaching and inspiration, indicates that hadā will not occur, and is not in contradiction with the possibility of badā.

The objection may also be worded in a different way according to some traditions, in some instances the reports of the prophets and Imams (peace be upon them) did not come to pass, and the reason for that has been mentioned as badā or other factors. And this entails having informed about something that is untrue and being accused of lying, and causes a weakening of the position of prophecy and viegerency.

In addition, the prophet or vicegerent who makes the prophecy either knows about the occurrence of badā or does i't know about it. In the first case, it is obvious that announcing with certainty the occurrence of an event that will not occur even though the announcer knows that it will not occur constitutes at e. And the position of the prophets is far removed from that

In the second wase is wern announcing with certainty the occurrence of an event that may or may not occur because of the possibility of hand if not a ic, does not much buf the position of prophecy or Imamah

Answer First, according to reliable traditions, the knowledge and awareness of unseen matters that Allah grants to the propoet or r a successor and commands him to announce belongs to the definic affairs in which there is no hadd' for example, the Prophet's (pence be apon him and his fam y) prophecy about Aminar being killed at the hands of the renel tous party about the mariyed will of A nic al-Mulminin and Imani Hasayn (peace be apon h m) and the remain ng regedies to bela , the Ah a. Bait (peace be upon thurn), or about l'atimah ( )cace be upon her) being the first of the Ar a Bait to mee, by all are de in te matters not subject to badā. The same is true about the proposety that Islam shall subdue the world, that I mam More (may A lan has en his return) will appear at the end of time and the explanation of his qualities and charac eristics, and tens o other andeniable prophecies. Similarly, the reports about the unseen given by Amir al Mu'minin (peace be upon him), much of which he All al Sunnat lave a so parrated, and the reports of the remaining linkins peace he upon them) about unseen affairs are not subject to hada, or more correctly, bada, will not take place in these maders, if cise those personages would not have given informat on about them

The traditions which mention the existence of badā in the r reports of the unseen are either very rare or contain a weak chain of narration, or else their indication of such a poin is incomplete. Take for example the same tradition of Abū Hamzah which was discussed earlier.

If there is a sahih sound, tradition in this regard, it is the tradition of Amr bin Hamq from Amir al-Ma'min in (peace be upon him) which says. I had the honor of coming to the presence of Amir al-Ma'min (peace be upon him) when he had been struck with the fate blow, he (peace be upon him) said, O' Amr I shall part from you. I min the year 70, calamities will take place, its repeated this slatement thrice.

I said. O' Amir al-Ma'minin (peace be upon l. m), you said and calamities will occur and the year 70, is there deliverance after that year?

He said, Yes, Amr. After every it all there is de overance and case.

*Allah effaces whatsnever He preases and iffirms and with Him is the Mother of the Book. ****

This tradition does not prophesy be appearance and aprising of the Imam of the Time may A ah hasten his return, rather it gives information about a Divine custom.

إِنَّ مَعَ ٱلْقُسْرِ يُسْرِأُ

"Verily with difficulty is ease." 97

At the same time, it mentions the point that this deliverance will come to be in the case that hadd does not occur. In reality, the Imam, by reciting the verse "Allah effaces whatsoever He pleases and affirms, and with Him is the Mother of the Book" wanted to say that this matter is not definite; it may very well be that hadd will occur and prevent it from occurring.

Belief in the Return (Raj'ah) with respect to Belief in the Mahdi (may Allah hasten his return)

QUESTION:

According to many traditions, at the end of time a number of the deceased Imams (peace be upon them) as well as others will return to this world. Is bollefun the conceatment of the twelfth Imam (may Allah hasten his return) and his reappearance in accordance with belief in the return (raj'ab)? In other words, does the belief in concealment, and reappearance include the return and all other events, that will occur before the Day of Judgment, or is it an independent behef separate from the return?

ANSWER

Belief in the appearance of the Mandi and Savior from the Ah. al-Bait and progeny of Fätimah (peace be upon her) is a widespread and collective belief of the Muslims and is not exclusive to the Shi'a. Though the Shi'a also specify his identity in terms of lineage and characteristics, the belief itself is universal, and its tidings have been given in previous religions in the Tawrat and Zabur as well. And according to the principles of the Twelver Shi'a school, without belief in it, one's faith is incomplete, and the acceptance of one's actions is dependent on accepting it. One who dies without believing in this issue or who does not recognize the twelfth Imām (may our souls be his ransom) as the Imām has died the death of ignorance according to the judgment of the prophetic tradition:

"Whoever dies without recognizing the Imam of his time dies the death of the Age of Ignorance."

This belief, in terms of influence and importance, is at this level.

Belief in the return as well, though it is rooted in the Qur'an and traditions, is not such that the issue of concealment and reappearance not be explainable without it.

Thus, the principle of Imamah and the issue of the Mahdi has been discussed in books even without mention of the issue of the return.

Still, it must be mentioned that the issue of raj'ah and the return of the deceased itself is an Islamic issue and its occurrence in previous times is confirmed on the basis of numerous verses of the Qur'an. When this is the case, since it has had a parallel in the past, the possibility of its reoccurrence at the end of time cannot be denied.

When the return of the deceased has occurred in past ummah (communities), according to well-known tradition famous among the Ahl al-Sunnat, they must consider it possible in this ummah as well:

لِتَسْلُكُنَ سُئِلَ مَنْ كَانَ قَبْلِكُمْ حَذُوا النَعْلَ بِالنَعْلَ وَالظَّذَةَ بِالْظَدَّةِ حَتَّى لُوْ أَنْ أَحَدُهُمْ دَخَلَ حَجْزَ صَبُّ لَدَخَلْتُمُوهُ.

"Verily you will follow the path of those before you...

Thus, the denial of its possibility in this ummah by non-Shias is incorrect according to the meaning of this tradition.

In the end, while overlooking the verses that mention the occurrence of raj'ah in previous ummahs, for the sake of blessings and grace we mention one verse that bears witness to its occurrence in this Nation:

وَيُومَ لَحْشُرُ مِنْ كُلِّ أُمَّةٍ فَوْجًا مِمَّنْ يُكَذَّبُ بِآيَاتِنَا فَهُمْ يُؤزَّعُونَ

"And (remember) the day when We shall gather from every community a group of those who gave the lie to Our signs, so they will meet one another," 100

This verse indicates a day when from every ummat a group of people will be gathered who gave the lie to the Divine signs, which naturally is a day other than the Day of Judgment.

And there is no might nor power save with Aliah

And our final assertion is that all praise is for Allah the Lord of the Worlds.
